BATTLE RAGES AT PEIPING GATE

VIOLENCE BROKE OUT IN STEEL STRIKE AT CLEVELAND MONDAY

AT LEAST TWENTY PERSONS, INCLUDING TWO POLICEMEN, INJURED

CLEVELAND, July 26.—(AP)—Steel strike violence broke out anew today. At least 20 persons were injured in rioting at Republic Steel Corp.'s Corrigan-McKinney plant in Cleveland; eleven were arrested.

Clashes occurred when police broke through CIO picket lines.

Tom Glowacki, 51-year-old picket suffered critical injuries when he was run down by a car containing four men trying to enter the plant.

Two policemen were hurt.

Some 1,000 strikers and sympathizers, witnesses said, massed around one of the approaches to the plant's main entrance. About 100 officers, many on horses and on motorcycles, attempted to clear a path.

At first only boos and cat calls came from the crowd but as more cars carrying non-strikers passed through the line rocks flew from the strikers, police said.

In melees which followed, Mounted Patrolman Rowley Oker was hit in the back of the head. He remounted asd charged a crowd of 300 on the sidewalk, witnesses said, bringing his night stick down on the head of a striker, Matibida Mnauos, 35, who collapsed under the blow.

After the violence, first here since Republic reopened its Cleveland plants July 6, the strikers marched on city hall in a mass protest against police action. Their ranks swelled and the milling crowd was estimated at almost 5,000 persons.

A committee of 15 carried a protest to Mayor Harold H. Burton.

Corrigan-McKinney is one of four Cleveland plants Republic reopened July 6 under protection of state troops, later withdrawn. There was no trouble at that time.

The Cleveland plants were among the last of Republic units to reopen in the face of a CIO strike which started late in May.

Sporadic window smashing, assaults and other vandalism have occurred since the reopenings.

This was the worst strike outbreak since July 1, when two men were killed and 15 injured in a police-strikers clash at a C. I. O. union headquarters in Massillon, O. That clash is being investigated by the National Labor Relations Board.

MARRIAGE OF GIRL, 12, ANNULLED

Speedy annulment of the marriage of Virginia Shirley, 12, to 21-year-old Harold Toy, cabinet maker, was granted when the girl appeared in Los Angeles court with her father, Clarence Shirley, above. The latter testified that he had never given his consent to the union. Toy, who once before was married to a child bride, was released on probation.

Mattern Flight Was Tentatively Denied Today

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(AP)—Commerce department officials reported today an application by Jimmie Mattern for permission to fly over the North Pole to Russia had been tentatively denied.

Authorities said Mattern would be permitted to make a new application, however. They said he would have to prove that the flight would be of scientific value.

J. Monroe Johnson, assistant commerce secretary in charge of transport regulation, gave the ruling turning down Mattern's first application.

Officials said it was in line with Secretary Roper's expressed opposition to "stunt flying."

Officials said Mattern has participated in aviation developments in this country for many years. Some years ago he attempted a

MUCH IMPROVEMENT IN FINANCES SHOWN BY SEVERAL STATES

SOME STATES EVEN HAVE LARGE CASH BALANCES; BONDS ARE REDUCED

CHICAGO, July 26.—(AP)—From state capitals of the nation came reports today of midyear audits showing marked improvement in government finances.

Most state treasurers found that not only were operating budgets out of the "red," but substantial trimming was under way in bonded indebtedness that reached the staggering total of almost three billions in 1929.

Tax collections shooting upward with the rising curve of business was the principal reason advanced for the brighter financial picture.

The Oregon treasury showed a $13,000,000 balance, largest in history. Arkansas' was above $10,000,000 and a bond refinancing program was in progress. California sliced its operating deficit by $17,000,000. Illinois had a $66,000,000 treasury balance and had cut its bond obligations $28,000,000 in three years. Iowa's $5,400,000 balance was its best in six years.

These were typical of the bright spots revealed in an Associated Press survey comparing current statements with peak deficits.

Despite bond retirement programs in many states, issues outstanding were at higher levels in some states because of highway and building construction and emergency projects brought on by depression needs.

WAGE-HOURS BILL BE TAKEN UP FOR IMMEDIATE ACTION

WILL BE FIRST STEP IN EARLY WINDING UP OF PRESENT SESSION

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(AP)—Congressional leaders arranged today for immediate senate consideration of the wage and hours bill as the first step in winding up the sessions.

A bill by Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) to limit the length of freight trains was at the top of the senate calendar.

Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky.), said, however, that if it was not disposed of by late afternoon he would have it laid aside for the labor standards measure.

Barkley discussed it with President Roosevelt during a week-and cruise. He said before the trip he thought legislation for low cost housing, for plugging tax loopholes and for speeding up lower federal courts should be enacted.

Barkley expressed belief the wage and hour bill could be sent to the house in about three days. He indicated he would call up next

GOVERNMENT FORCES RETREAT MONDAY TWO IMPORTANT FRONTS

INSURGENT ATTACKS MORE POWERFUL AS TROOPS AND MATERIALS MASSED

By the Associated Press

Government Spanish armies retreated on two fronts today in the face of powerful insurgent attacks.

The front west of Madrid shifted to Villaneuva de la Canada after General Jose Miaja's government forces were driven from Brunete yesterday by withering insurgent attack.

Both sides have massed more men and more gunpower there than for any other battle of the civil war.

Villaneuva, 18 miles from the capital, may become a crucial battlefield. A government defeat there might lay Madrid open to a new frontal attack. It is the key to the communication lines within the wedge the government has driven into the insurgent lines.

Insurgent communiques said Generalissimo Francisco Franco's forces took more than 40 miles in the Albarracin sector of the Teruel front, east of Madrid.

A government report said a new defense line was being organized in Cuenca province to resist the insurgent drive, aimed at severing auxiliary communication roads between Madrid and Valencia.

Barcelona counted at least 65 dead and 150 wounded after eight insurgent planes made the worst air raid of the civil war on the capital of autonomous Catalonia at dawn Sunday.

Great Britain, making possibly her last effort, struggled to preserve Europe's non-intervention plan to isolate the war in Spain. British officials drafted a questionnaire to determine whether their compromise neutrality proposals could break a "hands off Spain" deadlock.

Plans Are Near Completion For Frost Banquet

Plans were practically completed Monday morning for the goodwill and fellowship banquet to be held in Frost Tuesday night under the auspices of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce. The caravan from Corsicana on this occasion is expected to include 65 merchants, businessmen and others. The tickets are purchased by the Corsicanans and each will have as his guest a Frost resident.

The banquet will be served by the Worthwhile Club and the ladies of the Methodist and Baptist churches of Frost. The meeting will be held on the lawn of the First Baptist church.

Sydney Marks, chairman of the retail merchants committee, heads the plans for the occasion. The deadline for tickets will be Monday night, it was announced Monday by R. W. Knight, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce. The ducats are available at the Chamber of Commerce office and from Mr. Marks, Festus A. Pierce, W. M. Spear, S. J. Miles, Bill Smith, M. A. Tekell, Joe Wolens and Ed Wendorf.

A number of short talks will be made by leading Frost men and women as well as by Corsicanans. Other numbers to be on the program will include two solos by Mrs. O. W. Reece and duets by Misses Frances and Glenna Watson, with guitar accompaniments.

RANGER'S SEIZURE CAMERA PROBABLY COST HIM HIS JOB

SUSPENSION OF POWER FENNER BY CARMICHAEL HAS BEEN CONFIRMED

AUSTIN, July 26.—(AP)—Power Fenner was definitely through as a Texas ranger today because, among other things, he seized a photographer's camera at a recent court hearing in Raymondville and attempted to expose the film.

Col. H. H. Carmichael, director of the State Department of Public Safety, said action of the public safety commission yesterday in affirming Fenner's previous suspension from the ranger force was final and there would be no reinstatement.

"Under the law I have authority to suspend a ranger," Carmichael said. "The ranger may appeal to the commission and if the commission sustains me that is all there is to it."

Carmichael said Fenner was "let off" the force not only because of the difficulty over the camera seizure but also because of circumstances surrounding the arrest by the ranger of a special investigator in the mysterious Blanton disappearance case.

The camera incident came at the conclusion of a hearing in Willacy county court when Fenner and three other officers were adjudged in contempt, fined and given jail sentences. The contempt proceedings was an outgrowth of the investigator's arrest.

Louis Lamadrid, the investigator, accused of carrying a pistol without a permit and impersonating an officer, has been released. Habeas corpus action, seeking to stay the county court judgment pending appeal, has been filed with the court of criminal appeals.

Following Fenner's appeal to the safety commission, presented by S. L. Gill of Raymondville, at an executive meeting, Albert Sidney Johnson, chairman, and other commissioners declined to adiscuss details of the hearing, but said the case was disposed of finally.

Three Are Held Connection With Theft Of Mules

A white man and two negroes are in the Navarro county jail charged with the theft of two mules in Navarro county and examining triais are scheduled to be held before Judge A. E. Foster Monday afternoon.

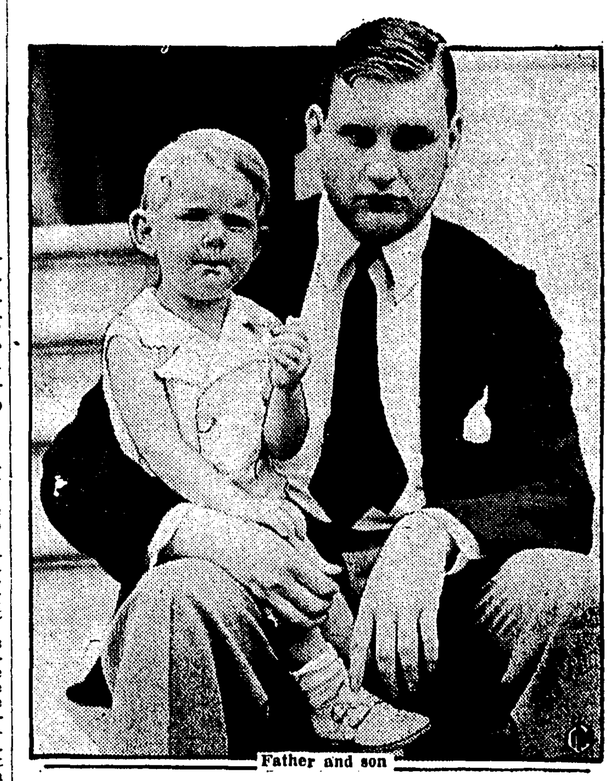

The trio were arrested in Freestone county early Saturday morning by Sheriff Jim Sessions and other officers following advices from here. A mule allegedly stolen Friday night from J. A. Young, who resides on Highway 31 southwest of Corsicana, was recovered by the Freestone county officers. A trailer and pick-up truck also was seized and returned to Corsicana by Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse and Depnuty Sheriff J. M. Westbrook.

A mule taken from M. S. Miles of the Rice community several weeks ago was recovered Saturday several miles south of Madisonville in a pasture, by Sheriff Pevehouse and Deputy Westbrook.

Sheriff Pevehouse Monday reported that a jack allegedly stolen from Tarrant county and a mare missed in Harris county were also found near Madisonville.

Those named in the complaints filed late Saturday before Judge Foster were G. A. Cheratt, Henry Cotton and Aaron Robbins.

JAPANESE CLAIM CHINESE FIRED ON COLUMN INSIDE CITY

HEAVY CASUALTIES REPORTED AMONG INVADERS IN BATTLE AT GATE

TIENTSIN, China, July 26.—(AP) — Japanese army headquarters reported tonight that a battle was raging at a gate in Pieping's outer wall after Chinese permitted half a column of Jananese troops to enter the gate and then fired on them.

The Japanese column of about 500 men intended to enter Peiping by the southwest gate to "protect Japanese citizens." The Japanese here said the Chinese announced they would permit the entry, then let half the Japanese troops come in and opened up with machine guns and grenades.

Heavy Japanese casualties were reported both inside and outside the gate.

Chinese reports said the Japanese "attacked" the gate, soon after a Japanese ultimatum demanded that Chinese troops quit Peiping and its environs or face drastic action.

Reports of the new clash follower Japanese air bombardment of the 38th Chinese army divivsion at Langfang, midway on the Peiping-Tientsin railroad.

The Chinese government central agency declared in a Peiping dispatch that Japanese used machine guns and light artillery in the engagement just outside Piping's walls.

Chinese defenders patrolling the walls called outh reserves, opened the barred gate, rushd out and fought off the attackers, the report said. Chinese estimated the attackers numbered about 500, and said they came from Fengtai, Jananese field headquarters southwest of Peiping.

TIENTSIN, China, July 26.—(AP) —Japan's army rekindled the military fires of North China today with air bombs and bullets and demanded in a formal ultimatum that Chinese troops quit Peiping and its embattled environs quickly or face a "drastic" campaign of punitive action.

Japanese military planes blasted barracks of the 38th Chinese army division at Langfang, midway on the Peiping-Tientsin railroad, and strafed fleeing units on the Chinese 11th infantry brigade as they fled pell-mell along the right of way, after a ten hour battle for Langfang.

Chinese and Japanese troops were reported to have clashed briefly just outside Kwanganmen, Peiping's southwest gate, in a new outbreak tonight. After an hour's lull the firing continued.

(At Nanking, China's capital, the foreign office expressed indignation at the "Japanese action." The capital heard reports that Chinese were taking up new positions and strengthening their

SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION MAKES ADDRESS HERE

NEW SCHOOL LAWS AND AVAILABLE SCHOOL FUND DISCUSSED BY WOODS

L. A. Woods, Austin, state superintendent of public instruction, was the principal speaker at a meeting of Navarro county school teachers, officials and interested persons at 10 o'clock Monday morning in the Carnegie library auditorium. Mr. Woods' subject was "New School Laws," but most of his talk dealt with the state available school fund apportionment controversy between the state board of education and the state automatic tax board, and the state equalizaion program.

G. H. Brown, county superintendent, presided and introduced Mr. Woods. Several visiting schoolmen were introduced by Mr. Brown.

Mr. Woods said in opening his talk, that there is lots of governmental machinery in the state, and added "we used to have a representative form of government, but that seems to be slipping now and it seems the state is bein run by boards appointed by men who were elected."

"Our government is founded on compromise, and a representative form of government thrives on such a set-up, granting that education is the leaven to leaven the lump," Mr. Woods declared. He added that education is the fundamental thing upon which a representative form of government is

J. A. BREITHAUPT BRINGS FIRST BALE COTTON IN MONDAY

COTTON SOLD TO CORSICANA COTTON MILLS FOR FIFTEEN CENTS POUND

J. A. Breithaupt brought the first bale of the 1937 cotton crop to Corsicana Monday morning, July 26. It weighed 678 pounds and was bought by the Corsicana Cotton Mills for 15 cents per pound, bringing $101.70. This was the heaviest first bale ever weighed by the Corsicana Warehouse, officials stated. Robinson & Irvine ginned the cotton. The bale was grown on the Jarvis Whiteselle farm a few miles south of Corsicana.

A premium will be raised for Mr. Breithaupt, officials of the Corsicana Warehouse stated Monday. Work of raising the premium will be started Tuesday morning.

The first bale of this year came in five days earlier than last year. In 1936 Mr. Breithaupt brought the first bale to Corsicana on July 31 and it weighed 532 pounds. Mr. Breithaupt has won first bale honors two years in succession.

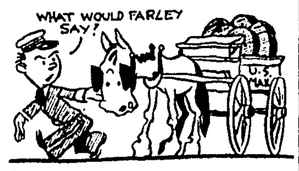

In 1935 R. P. Layfield brought in the first bale on August 5.

The earliest bale brought to Corsicana since 1920 was on July 13, 1935 and it was raised by W. A. Cavender. The latest first bale

SPECULATION OVER ROOSEVELT CHOICE TO FILL SUPREME COURT VACANCY IS TAKING FORM AGAIN

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(AP)—The general expectation that President Roosevelt will fill the supreme court vacancy before adjournment of congress renewed speculation today over his possible choice.

The latest name mentioned was that of Senator Robert LaFollette (Prog-Wis.) The 42-year-old senator and his brother, Gov. Phil LaFollette of Wisconsin, accompanied Mr. Roosevelt on a weekend cruise down the Potomac.

The President told his press conference Friday that he had not yet considered the appointment.

Many Washingtonians have expressed the belief Mr. Roosevelt might promote a federal circuit or district judge to the high court. Judges Sam Bratton of New Mexico, and William Denman of San Francisco are among those mentioned.

The names of two democratic senators—Wagner of New York and Logan of Kentucky — also have entered public discussion. Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson, Solicitor General Stanley Reed, Chairman James M. Landis of the Securities Commission, and Justice Ferdinand Pecora of New York are others in the spotlight.

Hints were given during the court battle that some of the older justices—Sutherland and Brandies in particular—might leave the bench as soon as that issue was settled.

The senate sidetracked the bill last Thursday, and a judiciary committee is drafting a non-controversial measure to speed up lower federal courts.

It asked Senator Borah (R-Idaho) to explain today his proposal for including a method of preventing abuses in reorganization of bankrupt corporations. His plan dealt chiefly with attorneys' and receivers' fees.

Committee members expect to send the legislation to the senate late this week. Little opposition is expected.

"LITTLE LORD FAUNTELROY" IS DEAD, A HERO, AFTER SPENDING LIFETIME PROVING NOT A SISSY

NEW YORK, July 26.—(AP)—"Little Lord Fauntleroy" is dead—a hero.

Vivian Burnett, who spent a lifetime proving he was not as "sissy" as the fictional character protrayed in the famous novel by his mother, Frances Hodgson Burnet, died after helping save four persons from drowning in the choppy waver of Manhasset Bay.

Burnett, 61, collapsed at the helm of his yawl Delight III yesterday after maneuvering it so that others on the boat could haul from the waters two men and two women whose sailboad had capsized. He was dead, apparently from a heart attack, before the yawl docked.

"Little Lord Fauntleroy" was written after Burnett, then 7, asked his mother to "write some books that little boys would like to read."

The book was an immense success, and a generation of American boys came to hate the "perfect little boy" whom their mothers held up as a pattern of conduct. They also hated the "sissified" big white Fauntleroy collar which imprisoned their young necks during a national vogue.

Burnett was a sophomore at Harvard when his mother disclosed in a magazine article that he had been the unwitting model in her novel. The rest of his days the "Fauntleroy" tag plagued him.

To offset it he made a name for himself on the university track team and later, as a cub reporter, invaded Denver when the city was the stronghold of as two-fisted a crew of journalists as ever beat up a city editor.

Burnett, a man of diverse talent, won recognition as a columnist on the Washington, D. C., Times and as a star investigation-reporter for McClure's magazine during the "muckracking" era. He also edited a children's magazine, wrote many lyrics and composed dance and religious music.

He was intensely devoted to his mother and in 1927 wrote the story of her life in "The Romantic Lady."

MANY ACRES OF HEMP OF MARIHUANA FOUND IN VALLEY DISTRICT

GOVERNOR ALLRED ANNOUNCES DESTRUCTION OF 580 ACRES OF WEED

AUSTIN, July 26.—(AP)—Governor James V. Allred disclosed today 580 acres of marihuana or hemp in the lower Rio Grande Valley had been destroyed and announced the state henceforth would not permit growth of the plant for fiber purposes.

"From the days of the Persians of old," the governor said, "marihuana has been one of the most dangerous and deadly narcotics. It unquestionably is responsible for a lot of crime all over the country. I am much more interested in a crop of humanity than in a fiber crop."

Allred and Col. H. H. Carmichael, head of the Public Safety Department, launched an investigation of hemp-growing in Willacy county after a man arrested at Corpus Christi as a suspected marihuana dealer said the product was hemp from that county.

The investigation revealed, Allred said, that farmers were growing it under contract with a hemp factory. Operators of the factory said they were under the impression they had a permit from the department of health. They had had correspondence with that department and the attorney general's office.

The governor said he pointed out the new and stronger anti-narcotics law provided that hemp could not be grown unless a permit was obtained from the pub

BUSINESS OUTLOOK IS BETTER THAN FOR MANY YEARS SURVEY OF GENERAL CONDITIONS SHOW

By R. H. HIPPENHEUSER
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, July 26.—(AP)—A survey of industrial, business and agricultural conditions in the United States shows the forces of recovery are still holding up strong, making for less of a summer let-down than usual.

The largest farm income since 1929 now is in prospect—an income with an even greater purchasing power than '29.

Total cash income in 1929 was approximately $10,400,000,000 with a net income of around $6,100,000,000. Economists and statisticians expect farm income this year to approximately $9,000,000,000 with a net of around six billions.

The "Brookmire counselor" believes the farmers will be "better able than they were in 1929 to buy clothing, furnishings, radios, automobiles, farm implements and a multitude of other goods and equipment. Not since the abnormal world war period have farmers been as prosperous as today."

In the immediate phase, some of the outstanding "prosperity items" are:

Profits for the first 50 companies reporting second quarter earnings were more than 21 per cent above the comparable period of 1936. Heavy industry, steels and rail equipment, showed the widest gains.

The production of electricity reached the highest point on record a week ago.

Steel production was well ahead of last year.

The volume of unfilled orders in the machine tool industry, approximating 1929, indicated manufacturers were filling their needs for new equipment.

Inventories generally were lower, pointing to widespread need of the replacements.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at the close of trading Saturday stood at $70.10, compared with $67.90 a year ago.

The market reached its peak for the year in March, with the average of $75.30, and then fell to the year's low of $68.60 June 28. Since then, the long range trend has held upward.

For the consumer, the prosperous era probably will bring a further increase in living costs. Rents are up for fall leases, and merchandisers except another price rise in the coming months.

JAMES J. DOOLING, LEADER OF TAMMANY HALL, DIED MONDAY

STROKE FATAL TO POLITICIAN IN MIDST OF ONE OF BITTEREST FIGHTS

NEW YORK, July 16.—(AP)—James J. Dooling, 44, leader of Tammany Hall, died of a stroke early today in the midst of the bitterest political fight of his organization's many years of existence.

Dooling, although already stricken and knowing his death might come at any time, had just successfully blocked an ouster movement against him, put through his own anti-new deal candidate, United States Senator Royal S. Copeland for the New York mayoralty against an unprecedented revolt, and brought about indirectly a split in Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia's fusion party ranks.

Dooling had suffered several strokes. The final one ended in death at 7:30 this morning at his home at Belle Harbor in the Rockaways. Dooling was unmarried but closely attached to his relatives, especially his three sisters.

William P. Kennealy, chairman of the executive committee of Tammany Hall, automatically succeeded to the leadership of the organization by virtue of his office. He will hold office until the executive committee selects a permanent leader.

No comment was forthcoming immediately from Tammany members on what effect Dooling's

LARGE OUTLAY OF MONEY EXPENDED FOR IMPROVEMENTS

FINAL TEST IS EXPECTED TO BE MADE MIDDLE OF THE WEEK

Work of the installation of the sprinkle system over the entire 18-hole golf course at the Corsicana Country Club is scheduled to be completed by mid-week, according to an announcement by officials during the week-end.

Approximately $15,000 is the cost of the entire system which is composed of six, four, two, and other size pipelines. The water for the system is to be furnished from the club lake and will be sent through the mains by a large natural gas engine. The engine and pump will be housed in a brick building to be constructed soon.

The valves from which the arcs and streams of water will be played over the greens and fairways, are to be located where they will not interfere with or bother the playing of golf. The entire system of pipelines are being wrapped in tar paper after being tarred and treated with erosion and weather-resisting preparation.

Leaders in Charge.

The cost of the installation of the up-to-date system is being defrayed by several local persons, headed by H. B. Stroube, Jim Collins and others. J. N. Garitty, president of the club; Chas. Holloway, chairman of the grounds committee, and others have been giving much of their time each day since the work started. The pipelines are welded affairs and are expected to last a life-time without any major repairs being necessary.

Many of the lines have already been laid and tested while the remainder will be done this week.

Crews of laborers have been at work for more than two weeks on the project. One crew is busy removing the reeds and other water plants from the south side of the lake. The plants are being cut with scythes and carried out of the water. The water plants cause a loss of a large per cent of the water, especially during the dry periods, and with the installation of the sprinkle system, officials of the club desired to remove a large section of the reeds as a water conservation measure.

Course Ready Short Time.

With the completion of the test, the pipe ditches will be filled, watered and levelled off so that the golfers will not be bothered with the rises and mounds. It is expected that the course will be in perfect condition not later than Sept. 1. Many players, however, are playing over the course despite the handicaps and hazards incident to the open ditches on many of the fairways.

When this work is done, the local course will rank with the best in the country as the greens, as described by Johnny Dawson, famous amateur from Chicago, are among the best in the country.

New Pro August 1.

Porter Holloway, Corsicana product, professional athlete and popular home-town boy, will become professional at the club August 1, succeeding E. M. Hitt, who has resigned to enter other business in Waco. This announcement was made during the week-end following a meeting of the board of directors of the club.

Holloway formerly was a golf professional in Beloit, Wis., and was a well-known figure in professional baseball and golf circles for many years. He has been one of the ranking players and students of golf for years, and his selection as pro is hailed with delight and satisfaction by the golfers. Holloway has represented the local club in numerous tournaments with credit as well as one of those on committees sponsoring and putting over the annual Corsicana invitation tournament.

METHODIST CHURCH SERVICES WERE WELL ATTENDED ON SUNDAY

Church services at the First Methodist church were well attended Sunday. At the morning hour the pastor, Rev. T. Edgar Neal, preached from the subject, "Lost Sheep,' and the choir brought a special musical number. The pastor gave several illustrations of how people strayed away from God and the church, saying that many were being lost to the church through carelessness.

At the union services on the lawn at night, Rev. M. E. McPhail, pastor of the Third Avenue Presbyterian church preached; Dr. W. R. Hall, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, presided, and Rev. T. Edgar Neal, pastor of the First Methodist church, gave the prayer. Newton Carson rendered a solo. Rev. Mr. McPhail's theme was "Defeated Heroes, or the Hero Who Came Back.,'

At Sunday school 130 were present. In the adult department Mrs. J. S. Murchison, superintendent of the junior department, was the speaker. The meeting was dedicated to Mrs. Murchison, who has been an active worker in the First Methodist Sunday school for years. A letter of appreciation was read from Mrs. A. W. Rogers. Mrs. Boyce Martin rendered a solo.

Twenty-seven men heard Guy M. Gibson teach the Brotherhood class; Mrs. C. J. Colp was the leader in the young adult department; Charles Martin was the leader in the senior high department; Virginia Kerr was the leader in the young people's department, and Florine Farmer, the leader in the young people's evening service.

On next Sunday the two adult departments will meet jointly in the young adult department, Wednesday night, Mrs. W. M. Wilson will be the speaker at the church night services. This will be the last midweek service until September. Choir rehearsal Thursday night, Boy Scouts meet Friday night.

Homes Entered By Burglars; Money Reported Taken

At least three Jester Place homes were burglarized early Friday evening according to information received Saturday, and another Corsicana home was entered and ransacked Thursday night.

Those entered Friday night were the T. B. Kirkham residence at 1518 Woodlawn, where a sum of money, a sack of coffee, and a large mirror was taken and the intruder also emptied a bottle of ginger ale, leaving the empty bottle on the lawn. Also entered was the home of L. C. (Jake) Cook at 1520 Woodlawn where a small amount of money was taken from a purse, and the purse taken to the Kirkham home.

Another home entered was that of C. C. McClung at 1507 Maplewood but the occupants were not at home and it could not be determined if there was anything missing. Entrance to all the houses was gained by opening window screens with an ice-pick or similar instrument.

The home of Mrss. J. L. Halbert on West Third Avenue was found to have been entered and ransacked Friday morning, but nothing could be missed.

GENE SARAZEN WAS WINNER OF CHICAGO OPEN TOURNAMENT

SMITH, LAFFOON AND COOPER ONE STROKE BEHIND MONEY-WINNERS

CHICAGO, July 26.—(AP)—The boys who golf for a living can start fearing Gene Sarazen all over again.

He was back in the dough—the $3,000 Victor's award for the Chicago $10,000 tournament—for his first major conquest since his "double eagle" triumph in Bobby Jones' 1935 Masters' Open at Augusta, Ga.

Sarazen fought over a great field to win the rich Chicago tournament with a 72-hole total of 290 at the Medinah Country Club.

Starting yesterday's 36-hole wind-up, tied with George Smith of Chicago, and Harry Adams of Nashville, Tenn., at 144 strokes, a margin of one shot over Horton Smith, Ky Laffoon and Jim Foulis of Chicago, he worked through intermittent rain squalls to make his slender advantage last. Smith and Laffoon matched his scoring all the way in, but couldn't overhaul him, and a gallant rally by Harry Cooper, who never before had lost an official tournament at Medinah, gained him only a tie with them for second at 291.

Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., achieved a sensational 33-36—69, the best round of the tournament on his last trip, to take over the next slot at 293. Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., was seventh at 296, and National Open titleholder Ralph Guldahl, wound up even with Himmy Hines of Garden City, N. Y., and Bill Heinlein of Indianapolis, 299.

Gus Moreland of Peoria, Ill., topped the amateur section of the field with 300 strokes, a margin of one shot over Fred Haas, Jr., of New Orleans.

ATTENDANCE BETTER AT SUNDAY SERVICES OF FIRST BAPTIST

All services at the First Baptist church had an increased attendance yesterday. In the morning preaching hour, Rev. Mr. Miller continued the thought of his message of the previous Sunday, "If God Be for Us, Who Can Be Against Us." Mrs. Brietz played "Idyl" by Glynn as the offertory, and Mrs. Gladys Petrus and S. K. Brietz sang "Lead On, O King Eternal," by Spross as the special number. The service last evening was held on the lawn, and Rev. Mr. Miller preached on "If God Be for Us, We Ought to Be for Him."

There were 185 in Sunday school. The young people and adults met for the assembly program. Mrs. Clark Butler gave the devotional, and Miss Jean Smith played a piano Solo. The Sunday school superintendents will meet Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, the teachers at 7:30.

There were 41 present in B. T. U. last evening. A song service was held the first 15 minutes in the church parlor. After the union programs, an impressive vesper servieve was held. Lyman Barnes and Olin Taylor sang "Let the Lower Lights Be Burning," while the following lighted small candles from a large white one held by Miss Sarah Matthews: Misses Jean Carroll, Annie Ruth Robinson, Martha Ann Cook, Barbara Blakeney and Martha Jo Calloway. Miss Jewell Taylor accompanied the singers.

The Business Girls' Y. W. A. will meet this evening at 7:30 in the church parlor. Prayer meeting nnouncemeants will be made tomorrow.

Rev. E. T. Miller is in Rotan holding a two weeks' revival. W. W. Harris will fill the pulpit next Sunday morning, and Tom Tyson will fill the pulpit at the evening hour. The public is invited to hear these two fne laymen next Sunday.

Union Revival At Eureka Was Opened Sunday Morning

A union revival meeting at Eureka began Sunday morning and will run through Sunday, Aug. 1, with Rev. P. W. Evans of Big Hill doing the preaching. He is delivering some wonderful sermons. Rev. L. O. Cunningham of the Eureka Presbyterian church is directing the choir and also singing some special songs. Rev. G. L. M. Evans, Methodist pastor of Eureka is assisting in the meeting. Everybody is cordially invited to attend any and all services possible. If you are a singer be sure to come up and help us sing.

TRAXLER RETURNED TO PRISON; FACES ROBBERY CHARGES

ESCAPED TEXAS CONVICT AND NOTORIOUS OKLAHOMA OUTLAW IS MOVED

McALESTER, Okla., July 24.—(AP)—Pete Traxler, notorious Oklahoma outlaw who led officers of two states on a wild 10-day chase after his escape from a Texas prison farm, was back in prison today facing trial on three charges of armed robbery.

Traxler, whose flight was ended by a hostage who shot him down with his own gun, was placed in the state penitentiary hospital here last night after a 90-mile ride from Hugo.

The removal marked a decision by authorities to prosecute him in Oklahoma instead of returning him to the Eastham, Texas, prison farm, where he was serving a 99-year sentence when he escaped July 8.

Traxler is charged with armed robbery in Bryan, Pontotoc and Marshall counties. The charges carry the death penalty on conviction.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Nell Traxler, who joined her outlaw husband in his flight but was captured after a few hours, was rearrested at Hugo, on warrants from Houston, Texas, and Grady county, Okla., authorities, who filed charges of aiding her husband in his escape and flight.

Mrs. Traxler already was free on $5,000 bond on a federal charge of harboring a fugitive.

State jobs and money rewards totaling $250 each were in prospect today for Frank Trimmer, Pleasant Hill farmer, and J. E. Denton, Asher oil field worker, who wounded Traxler and killed his fugitive companion, Fred Tindol.

PELLAGRA CAUSED BY NOT EATING PROPER KINDS OF FOODS

AUSTIN, July 26.—(Spl.)—"Pellagra is a disease that is caused by not eating the right kind of food and shows itself usually by a strange kind of reddening and scaling of the skin," said Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer.

"The person with pellagra usually suffers loss of appetite, indigestion, diarrhea, soreness of the mouth and tongc, nervousness, low spirits and more or less general weakness.

"Thousands of Texans suffer with this disease and approximately one thousand die each year. More cases appear in the spring and early summer months than at any time of the year. This is because more people live on a restricted diet during the winter. It comes to those whose diet does not contain all that is needed to keep one in good health. The missing essential in the diet is called the pellagra prevention factor or vitamin. We know this because people who eat the right kind of food do not have the disease, because those who do have the disease and eat the right kind of food do get well and remain well as long as they maintain a proper diet and also when people are fed the wrong kind of food they develop the disease. Pellagra is not a communicable disease. The treatment should be directed by your doctor and the main thing is diet. Do not rely on patent medicines.

"The prevention of pellagra depends upon eating the right kind of food at all times. To make sure that the diet is right, it should always contain plenty of milk daily, some fresh meat and as many fresh vegetables as possible. Tomatoes, whole wheat products, salmon, yeast, and fresh fruits are especially valuable. Having provided these essentials of a proper diet, the rest may be arranged according to family or personnal likes. In this way, you avoid pellagra."

Former Tiger Grid Stars Injured In Auto Wreck Sunday

Two former Corsicana Tiger football players were injured and three others narrowly escaped serious injury at an early hour Sunday morning when the car in which they were riding turned over near Wilmer. The car was demolished.

Jack Stroube, former halfback, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Stroube, sustained the most serious injury. A hip was dislocated, a little toe was broken and numerous bruises, lacerations and cuts were sustained.

Glen Rea, former quarterback of Corsicana high, driver of the Stroube automobile, received a bruised ankle and leg.

Edward Pace, Mangum, Oklahoma, cousin of Stroube, received severe lacerations and bruises about the head and body.

Gillean Rea and his cousin, Westbrook, student of Louisiana Tech, were also in the car but did not receive any serious hurts.

Stroube was brought to the Ennis municipal hospital where he remained until 8 o'clock Sunday morning when he was brought to the Navarro Clinic. X-Ray pictures revealed there were no broken bones in the hip section.

The accident occurred at a curve about 1:30 o'clock. The party was en route home from Dallas at the time the car turned over.

Pan-Am Nude Girls No Longer Nude As Police Say Vulgar

DALLAS, July 26.—(AP)—Even the "nudists' camp" girls in the Pan-American Exposition's peep shows today wore clothes.

Reason: A "clothe or close" edict of Vice Squad Chief Roy Richburg of the Dallas plice last night.

The chief and his men toured the shows yesterday and peeped. Then they talked—out loud.

Peep show operators heard words like "indecent" and "vulgar."

So, today, even the "life class" models donned raiment.

SPORT NOTES

By PAUL MOORE —::— Sun Sports Editor

The New York Yankees are entering the American Association and are taking over the Kansas City Blues...The Blues and Yanks have been operating under a working agreement during the past several years...This will be the third class AA farm for the Yanks as they own the Newark Bears of the International league and the Oakland Oaks of the Pacific Coast circuit.

Home Run hitters Saturday included Secory, Beaumont; McMurrey, El Campo; Keyes, San Antonio; Peel, Fort Worth; Kappleman, Texarkana; Frierson, Texarkana; Beyrer, Kilgore; Gehrig, New York Yankees, 2; Bell St. Louis Browns, 2; Heath, St. Louis Browns; Padgett, St. Louis Cardinals; Lavagetto, Brooklyn; Frey, Chicago Cubs; Klein, Philadelphia Phillies; Kampouris, Cincinnati; Moore,. Boston Bees; Cuccinello, Boston Bees.

The St. Louis Cardinals were in a vicious mood Saturday and aided by seven errors, smothered the Brooklyn Dodgers, 20-2, for the most decisive game of the current National league season...Three hurlers were hammered hard.

Marshall of the East Texas league Saturday traded Jim Rininger, a right-handed pitcher, for John Sheffield, a left-hander, to the Texarkana Liners Saturday.

Sam Breadon, president of the St. Louis Cardinals, has branded the rumor that Frankie Frisch is to be deposed as Card skipper next year as without foundation...He stated Saturday that he had not given such an idea a thought and did not see any reason for a change...But that is not the first time that such a statement was given out by big league owners and less than ten days a new skipper showed up in charge.

Sam Hancock, Henderson outfielders, is in bad with the authorities of the East Texas league...J. Walter Moris, president of the circuit, recently fined Hancock $50 and suspended him ninety days for hittig Umpire Zebbie Howell at Henderson...That means that the outfielder is suspended for the remainder of the season...Henderson authorities believe the action of the president was too drastic and appealed his ruling and decision to the directors of the league...The directors upheld the ruling of Morris...When a ball player lets his temper, judgment, or feelings get the better of him to the point of striking an umpire, he is just about out of baseball for that season.

Rufe Meadows, pitcher for Tyler, turned in his eighteenth mound victory Saturday when he allowed Palestine only seven hits to win, 4-3...Chicago Cubs hammered the New York Giants in their first two games of the series in New York Friday and Saturday and pulled away from the Giants to maintain their lead in the percentage column.

Home Run hitters Sunday included Di Maggio, New York Yankees; Dickey, New York Yankees, 2; Crosetti, New York Yankees; Walker, Chicago White Sox; Henrich, New York Yankees, 2; Walkeh, Detroit; Fox, Detroit; Bolton, Detroit; Peters, Philadelphia Athletics; Greenberg, Detroit; West, St. Louis Browns; Almada, Washington; Kuhel, Washington; Bell, St. Louis Browns; Stone, Washington; Young, Pittsburgh; Chapman, Boston Red Sax; McNair, Boston Red Sox; Phelps, Brooklyn; Winsett, Brooklyn; Bejma, San Antonio; Mazzera, San Antonio; Secory, Beaumont; Connors, Longview; Andrews, Tyler, 3; Curtwright, Henderson; Frierson, Texarkana, 2; Rikard, Texarkana; Danning, New York Giants; Berger, New York Giants; Lombardi, Cincinnati; Hafey. Cincinnati; Norris, Philadelphia Phillies; V. Davis, Cincinnati; Camilli, Philadelpha Phillies.

Guy Henry, golfer at the Corsicana Country Club, spins a yarn about the cleaning of reeds from the club lake...Work was almost disrupted as a result...It seems while negroes, armed with scythes were cutting the reeds on the south side of the lake, busy with their task, a water moccasin had climbed to the top of a bunch of reeds to sun himself...One of the duskies working was almost directly under the reptile and when he struck the reeds, the snake fell from his place across the bared shoulders of the laborer...Screaming and fighting his way from the area, another laborer was slashing at the reptile with his sharp-bladed weapon, but missed and snake and the victim at each slash...Finally the reptile was bounded from the back of the negro and made his escape in the waters of the lake.

Neil Andrews of Tyler led the hitting attack Sunday with three home runs against Palestine...Tyler won, 10-7...Houston socked the leading Oklahoma City Indians, 2-1, and 3-1, Sunday, while Galveston won over Tulsa twice, 8-1, and 5-1.

E. M. Hitt, pro at the Country Club for the past several years, is leaving the golf business...He will go to Waco in a few days to enter other lines of business. Mr. and Mrs. Hitt came to Corsicana as pro and hostess from Mexia where they had held similar positions for some time...Both are well liked by Corsicanans.

ORDER INVESTIGATION OF ALL ANGLES ALLEGED DISCOVERY OF THREE MILLION DOLLARS GOLD

PANAMA, Panama, July 24.—(AP)—Under orders of President Juan D. Arosemena, authorities today sifted tales of a $3,000,000 treasure trove and circumstances of the death of the man who started them.

President Arosemena ordered the superior tribunal of the first judicial district to make an immediate investigation "of everything that has occurred from the very beginning" of the reported discovery of a gold cache in an ancient mine of Chiriqui province.

A Captain Sagel, one of the first to attempt a check of the story by Gaston Johannes Van Steck, a French prospector, reported Van Steck was found mortally wounded in the tunnel where he said the bullion was cached.

There was no sign of gold in the tunnel.

President Arosemena also ordered an inquiry "to establish the cause" of Van Steck's death.

Official "confirmation" earlier in the week of the Van Steck claim was attributed to "misinterpretation" of a message sent by Sagel to the police chief at El Volcan.

AIR TRANSPORT BUSINESS IS CLAMORING FOR GOVERNMENTAL REGULATION OF WIDE NATURE

NEW YORK, July 24.—(AP)—The air transport business is clamoring to be regulated.

It wants the government to step in and specify tariffs, assign routes and determine where healthful competition ends and ruinous competition begins.

It wants someone besides the postoffice to take over control of that perennial porcupine, the air mail, and right there the air transport business comes to cross-purposes with Washington.

Air transport and the postoffice department are ready for a showdown on Capitol Hill on the question of regulation. The postoffice insists everything is going along nicely now. The air carriers differ.

Intended by its author, Senator McCarran of Nevada, to ease the birth pains of the air business, a bill designed to vest the interstate commerce commission with authority over routes, rates and revenues of the commercial carriers is being pushed for enactment, if possible, during this session of congress.

In counter-attack, a bill intended to give the postoffice department an even greater measure of authority over the air lines is awaiting action in the house.

The air carrier managements believe that, even after more than ten years of passenger transport operations, they have only scratched the surface of potential patronage. They want route franchises—not obtainable under present laws—and higher returns for carrying the mails, pending such time as passenger traffic multiplies considerably over the million-plus tickets now sold each year.

MUCH SPECULATION AS TO WHAT REACTION OF ADMINISTRATION WOULD BE TO CIO CRITICISMS

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(AP)—The capital speculated today over what the reaction of the Roosevelt administration would be to the first CIO criticism of its policies during the Midwest steel strike.

The Steel Workers' Organizing Committee reported to the executive board of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers:

"The federal government throughout this entire situation has not displayed the slightest interest in protecting the rights of the steel workers on strike, which have been so flagrantly disregarded.

"Violations of the national statutes such as the national firearms act, by the steel corporations have produced no activity on the part of national officials."

Administration leaders made no immediate reply to the statement, which came from Lewis' two major unions. The CIO chieftain and the mine workers were active in support of President Roosevelt's candidacy for re-election last year.

The Mine Workers' board, after receiving the SWOC report yesterday unanimously adopted a resolution protesting "the complete lackadaisical and unconcerned attitude" of national and state authorities.

It called on federal and state officials "to bring to justice those persons who actively participated and the officials of the steel corporations who are definitely responsible for the wanton murder of 17 steel workers."

Not a single person, the steel workers' report said, has been brought to account for those deaths.

(The La Follette civil liberties committee investigated the deaths of 10 strike sympathizers during a Memorial Day demonstration in Chicago. It reported on Thursday that police used "excessive force" in breaking up the demonstration. A Chicago coroner's jury said the deaths were "justifiable homicide.")

NEW YORK STATE POLICE SEARCH FOR ROCHESTER SCOUTER

SCOUTMASTER'S CLOTHES FOUND ON MAN SLAIN IN MISSOURI

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 24.—(AP)—State police combed Central New York highways today for a clue to the mysterious disappearance of Morris B. Close, 23-year-old Rochester Scoutmaster, while in Missouri authorities puzzled over the identity of a roadside murder victim clad in the missing man's clothes.

The searchers proceeded on the theory that Close, who disappeared Monday while driving from Albany to Rochester, may have been waylaid, robbed of his car and clothing, and possibly slain.

The victim, whose bullet-riddled body was discovered beside a highway near Kingdom City, was identified tentatively by Prosecutor T. A. Faucett of Calloway county, Mo., as that of Cameron Pedley of Oregon, Mo.

Faucett said he had asked Pedley's relatives to view the body, and revealed that he had sent fingerprints of the dead man to Quantico, Va., where he understood Pedley had been discharged from the Marines. Faucett said he was informed that Pedley had started to hitch-hike home from Quantico.

The prosecutor was frankly puzzled, however, by the fact that the murder victim was covered by a coat and blanket which he said had been identified as belonging to the missing Close.

Faucett said he had established that the body was that of one of two men who bought gasoline Wednesday night in Kingdom City for a car which bore New York license plates and which resembled Close's machine. A search for the machine and the other occupant was under way today.

Further Search River Monster Is Abandoned

NEWPORT, Ark., July 24.—(AP)—The underwater hunt for White River's reputed "monster" terminated abruptly today when C. B. Brown, a professional diver, decided against further explorations of the floor of the deep river.

He said, however, he was convinced that the "something" which he sought was not a sunken log or scow, as some theorized, but actually an overgrown fish, although he never encounted it in two days of diving near here armed with a harpoon.

An air valve accident yesterday jerked him to the surface but he was not injured. He reported, however, that recent heavy rains had so muddied the river and so increased the flow of driftwood that he had decided against searching further.

Girard Oilers Won Over Bazette 11-4; Mill Blanked Rice

Girard Oilers took a firmer hold on the first place in the percentage column of the Navarro County Baseball League Sunday afternoon when they hammered out an 11-4 decision over the Bazette nine while Corsicana Cotton Millers were blanking Rice, 4-0, in their game played at Corsicana. Currie moved to within half a game of Cotton Mill and Bazette in third and fourth places with a 7-4 victory over the Emhouse aggregation. The Emhouse-Currie tilt was staged on the Currie diamond.

Girard will invade Currie next Sunday. Cotton Mill goes to Bazette in the game to determine the third place in the percentage table while Emhouse entertains the Rice contingent.

SECOND DIVISIONERS IN TEXAS LEAGUE IN DOUBLE WINS SUNDAY

MISSIONS SWAMPED DALLAS TO DRIVE STEERS DEEPER INTO CELLAR

By The Associated Press.

Two Texas league lower division clubs yesterday grabbed both ends of doubleheaders while a third unloosed a 17-hit barrage to sink the cellar-dwellers deeper into their role.

Houston's second-to-last Buffs knocked off the loop-leading Oklahoma City nine with hard-earned 2 to 1 and 3 to 1 victories. Quante held the Indians to seven hits in the opener while Smith stopped them with three in the afterpiece.

Galveston humiliated the second-plase Tulsa Oilers 8 to 1 and 5 to 1, the Corsairs' heavy artillery showering base hits all over the field.

The San Antonio Missions banged out 17 bingles, five of which went for extra bases including a pair of circuit clouts, in defeating Dallas 12 to 5.

Ed Greer hurled his 13th win of the season with the Fort Worth Cats who won a hard fought 4 to 3 game from the Beaumont Exporters.

CORSICANANS ACTIVE IN LEASE-ROYALTY TRADES AT OPELIKA

ATHENS, July 26.—(Spl.)—With the Texas Seaboard-Tide Water et al test at Opelika nearing the crucial depth, trading in leases and royalty was intensified.

Among the more active groups were Corsicana operators; among those figuring in the deals recently were Fred Brooks, J. N. Garitty, G. C. Hudson, Jr. F. Stein, Mrs. Retta Carroll, W. E. Thompson, The Cortex Petroleum Company, O. M. Rector, J. Afton Burke and others.

In the Cayuga area in southwest Henderson county, the Skelly Oil Company has farmed out its 100-acre lease in the Isaac Clenden survey to the Fred M. Allison Production Company of Corsicana for development. It now has two producing wells but has had little development. Surface casing has been set on a new test spudded during the week by the Allison company.

MUSSOLINI ORGAN OFFERS CRITICISM OF 'MAKE BELIEVE'

DECLARES 'REALITY,' BELIEVED TO MEAN WAR, WILL COME TO FORE

MILAN, Italy, July 24.—(AP)—Il Popolo d'Italia, Premier Mussolini's mouthpiece, declared today that "reality" some day would overwhelm international "make believe" and well informed persons said this "reality" was war.

The newspaper's slashing 750-word editorial was attributed to Il Duce himself.

It cited as one item of a group of "fictions" the belief that some day world war debts to the United States would be paid. Another "fiction," the newspaper said, was the belief abroad that Valencia is the real seat of the Spanish government.

"One day all these castles of cards will be overwhelmed by reality which in time has had a single, grave and unsubstitutable name," the article added, without using the word "war."

But the remark was quickly given a martial significance by authoritative sources.

Referring to the war debt "fiction," Il Popolo said:

"The people continue to pretend they believe these debts will be paid one day.

"Now everyone knows this is materially and, above all, morally impossible. Nevertheless, when the fateful dates June 15 and Dec. 15 come around the European governments inform America they find it impossible to pay.

"America takes note of this and puts it on the order of the day. The fiction nevertheless remains and carries in its lap the damaging elements of all embalmed fictions."

League of Nations

On the "fiction" of the League Nations:

"The paradox is that America after having invented the league for external use has always energetically refused to take any part in it. The father abandoned his creature as soon as it was born and the foundling began its life with the mark of this permanent unhappiness."

The premier's publication attacked nations opposed to granting belligerent status to Spanish insurgents.

The article, which usually well informed sources said could be interpreted as an indication of the stand Italy intended to maintain in the deadlocked non-intervention negotiations, called these nations perpetrators of "fiction."

In London last Tuesday Italy brought conciliation efforts of British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden to a fresh impasse by demanding that the granting of belligerent rights to both sides of the Spanish civil war be considered before the withdrawal of foreign volunteers.

Britain then began drawing up an entirely new plan to break the deadlock—a scheme thus far secret—which possibly will be laid before the directing sub-committee of the 27-nation non-intervention group early this week.

Langston Family In Annual Reunion City Park July 20

There were 56 members of the D. N. Langston family, consisting of five brothers and sisters with their children and grandchildren present at the City Park in Corsicana for their annual Reunion July 20th, 1937. One brother, Cleve Langston and family, of Austin, was unable to be present.

The adult members of the group spent the day in friendly conversation recalling many pleasant memories of the past while the youngsters had a most enjoyable time playing and riding the merry-go-round, swings, etc.

At the noon hour everyone present enjoyed the feast of good things to eat which was prepared and served in picnic style by members of the family.

We take pleasure in expressing our sincere apreciation, to the officials and caretaker of this beautiful park for the privilege of having our reunion there. It is a convenient and wonderful place for a meeting of this nature.

Adjournment was made with the desire in the hearts of every one that they might be at just such another meeting on the 3rd Tuesday in July, 1938.

GIANTS TAKE LAST GAME OF CRUCIAL SERIES FROM CUBS ON SUNDAY

(By The Associated Press.)

They were chasing after the Cubs on the National league merry-go-round today but the brass ring appeared to be exclusively in possession of Boston's believe-it-or-not Bees, possessors of a pitching staff that came out of nowhere and is pure poison to the rest of the senior circuit.

And the payoff is that although the Bees' big four flingers are worth their weigh in pound sterling right now, they didn't cost wily old Bob Quinn and cagey Bill McKechnie much more than enough to keep a Sunday crowd in hot dogs.

Danny MacFayden landed in Boston on waivers. Every other club gave up on old Guy Bush. Lou Fette and Jim Turner, a couple of 30-year-old rookies, couldn't have cost much to bring up from the minors this year, at an age when most others are on the way down again.

This quartet, aided by a couple of other "cheap" assistants, such as Johnny Lanning and Garbo Gabler, and without the backing of any kind of batting punch, have burned up the loop in a drive that has skyrocketed the Bees from eighth place on June 27 to a spot where they're flirting with the live division.

They habe won 22 of 30 starts, have allowed only 81 runs in 270 innings, and have a collective earned run average that should make the Mathewsons and the Waddels turn over in their graves.

They climaxed their winning spree yesterday by topping the Pittsburgh Pirates in both ends of a doubleheader, 5-2 and 7-5, with Bush and Fette doing the work.

Giants Take Last Game

The Giants salvaged the last game of their series from the Cubs 5-0 behind Harry Gumbert's six hit elbowing. This defeat sliced the Cubs' lead to two games.

The Yankees wound up their western whirl by splitting with the Chicago White Sox. They won the first game, 12-11, on Bill Dickey's two homers, but were nipped in the nightcap, 7-6, despite a pair of round trip belts by young Tommy Henrich, all of which left them with a five-game lead in the American league.

Washington's Senators knocked the ears off seven St. Louis Browns' pitchers for a twin win, 16-10 and 15-5. Lefty Grove hurled a two hitter as the Red Sox socked the Indians, 4-1, in a single game cut to five innings by rain, and the Detroit Tigers banged out four homers to whip the Pirates 12-9 as their lone tilt was washed out six frames.

The Dodgers and Cardinals put on 23 innings of dizzy baseball, with Brooklyn winning the opener, 6-5, in 11 innings and tying the nightcap at 7-all in 12.

The Reds split with the Phillies, dropping the second game, 7-3, after taking the opener, 13-3.

NAVARRO COUNTY'S CROP OUTLOOK AT PRESENT IS GOOD

Outlook for crops in Navarro county are bright and encouraging, H. C. Robinson, county agent, stated Monday.

Cotton in all sections of the county is fruiting well, except in instances where fleas have retarded the crop. All of the old cotton has a considerable crop already to the large boll stage while young cotton is looking fine.

Due to the dry conditions of several weeks ago, the corn crop is only fair, but the row feed crops are the best in years and ample feed is assured.

The grain crop this year, especially the fall oats, was above the average and the good fall yield brought up the lower returns on the spring oats.

Much of the row grains are being threshed in some sections and have been bringing a good price.

The hay crop is expected to prove ample for the needs of the section.

John Montague to Face Extradition Hearing Monday

LOS ANGELES, July 26.—(AP)—John Montague, golfer and friend of many movie folk, today awaited moves to extradite him to Essex county, New York, to face charges in connection with a $700 robbery in 1930.

Sheriff Percy T. Egglefield, arrived with two husky New York state troopers, was to confer with Governor Frank Merriam here today about an extradition hearing to be held either in Los Angeles or Sacramento.

Three Waxahachie Jailbreakers Have Been Recaptured

DALLAS, July 26.—(AP)—Waxahachie's jailbreaking trio was behind the bars again today. Ellis and Dallas county officers last night arrested Brackeen (Billy) Middleston in a rooming house.

His companions, Bill Garrett, 25, and Henry Clay Day, 20, were captured last week near Reinhardt.

Appreciation For Minister Expressed At Get-Together

Following choir practice at the Cumberland Presbyterian church Friday evening an appreciation and get-together service was held, honoring the minister, Rev. N. A. Woychuk, who was leaving at midnight Sunday for his six weeks' vacation trip to his home in Canada.

Roy Thompson, superintendent of the Sunday school, presided. After welcoming the friends and visitors, Mr. Thompson voiced his appreciation, and that of the whole membership for the services and untiring efforts of the young minister in building up the church. He spoke briefly of the high regard in which he is held by the community, and of the friendships he had made outside of his own denomination.

After this talk by Mr. Thompson, Rev. Sinclair, pastor of the Fort Worth church, led in a short song service.

Next on the program was an original skit written and carried out by Miss Lois Hornbeak, recreational director of young people's work. The name of the play was "A Motor Trip to Canada and Back," James Check and Will Roy Thompson taking the leading roles, assisted by others. This was extremely amusing.

Following this, Mr. Woychuk was presented with gifts and bon voyage letters.

He responded with a speech of thanks and feelingly expressed what the service had meant to him.

As a close to this delightful evening, a half hour of conversation was enjoyed while delivious ice cream was served by the young people's society of the church.

Mrs. E. C. Huckabee Returns From Visit In Carlsbad, N. M.

Mrs. E. C. Huckabee returned Friday from a delightful visit with her sister-in-law, Mrs. D. G. Grantham in Carlsbad, New Mexico.

Mrs. Huckabee was accompanied to Carlsbad by Mrs. Joe Woods of Fort Worth and Miss Annie T. Smith of Dallas, sisters of Mrs. Grantham and by Miss Ann Smith of Wichita Falls, a niece of Mrs. Grantham.

Mrs. Woods will continue her visit with her sister until the second of August when they plan to go to Sacramento mountains to attend a religious training school.

W. C. T. U. Met On Tuesday Afternoon

The W. C. T. U. met in regular session Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. F. Yarber, 2316 West Second avenue.

Mrs. Yarber was assisted by Mrs. Robert Yarber, by the use of her car to increase the attendance.

The meeting was opened by singing several temperance songs; the president, Mrs. Van Sweden, had charge of the devotional, and was assisted by Mesdames Minnie Wood, and C. A. Haden and Miss Yarber in reading appropriate scriptures.

The plan and aim of the Texas W. C. T. U. was emphasized by Mrs. Van Sweden and Mrs. Minnie Wood. The cause and relief from crime wave was presented by the treasurer, Mrs. C. A. Haden, and this talk was followed by an incident of the cause of crime by Mrs. Van Sweden.

The state connection will meet at McAllen.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Haden the first Tuesday afternoon in August.

After singing, "The Eyes of esus Are Upon You," the meeting was brought to a close with a prayer.

At the social hour the hostess was assisted by her daughter in serving delicious cake and ice cream.

Shaw Celebrated His 81st Birthday Today

MALVERN, Eng., July 26.—(AP)—George Bernard Shaw celebrated his 81st birthday today, his undimmed vitality giving the lie to his own hint of a year ago that it was about time he started his own obituary.

Shaw declined to discuss his health beyond a grudging concession that he is "all right - - - for my age."

FARMER DELEGATION WILL ATTEND WACO MEETING THURSDAY

A delegation of Navarro county farmers, headed by H. J. Kent, district director of the Texas Agricultural Association, will attend a mass-meeting in Waco Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, to discuss the new farm bill and to urge congress to take immediate action. This mass-meeting will be of farmers and others interested from extension districts 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8.

The proposed farm program now before congress provides prices for farm commodities at or near parity with other major commodities, and farmers are insistent that something be done toward passage of the bill at this session of congress.

Frank H. Malone To Become Director Of Mustang Band

Frank H. Malone, Jr., of Dallas, who is a nephew of Mrs. R. T. Puryear of this city, and Mrs. C. C. Albritton of Dallas, will succeed P. C. Conn as director of the Mustang Band of Southern Methodist university, according to an announcement Friday by a faculty committee that included Dean A. C. Zumbrunnen, Jimmy Stewart and Harold H. Todd.

Mr. Conn resigned last week to accept a position as director of the band at the University of Southern California.

Mr. Malone, who is a senior in the school of music, has been assistant director of the band for two years and a member of the group for five years. He announced that twenty half scholarships will be awarded to band members this year, and that he plans to build the band up to a personnel of sixty players.

Strikers Mexican Aviation Company Secure Injunction

MEXICO CITY, July 26.—(AP)—Striking employes of the Mexican Aviation company today were granted a 72-hour injunction against the Federal Labor Conciliation Board decision outlawing the week-old strike.

The first district court granted the injunction which permitted the strikers additional time in which to fight the board's ruling that made return to work obligatory within 24 hours.

The strike, disrupting Mexico's air connection with Los Angeles and Brownwood, Texas, started July 17 when 250 employes walked out demanding higher wages and shorter hours.

The conciliation board yesterday declared that strike illegal, upholding the aviation company's contention that the workers' contract specified arbitration must be attempted before any strike.

Steel Workers In Chicago Area Get First Pay Checks

EAST CHICAGO, Ind., July 26.—More than 12,000 former strikers at the Inland Steel company plant today received a half million dollars in pay checks, the first since the walkout May 26.

Pay day at the big plant of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company, adjacent to Inland, is scheduled Friday when more than 7,000 workers will receive approximately $400,000.

Most of the money, business men said, would go to stores that extended credit to the workers who answered the CIO strike call.

The Inland mills resumed operation July 1 and the Youngstown plant on July 13.

Houston Semi-Pro Team Going Good

WACO, July 26.—(AP)—Houston's Grand Prize nine today ranked as the team to beat in the state semi-pro baseball tournament.

Yesterday the Bayou City nine defeated the potent Wills Point team 5 to 2 for their third straight triumph. The Moody Ramblers won a 2 to 1 battle from the Austin Seven-Up club.

Among Leaders

JOE JEFFERSON, Jr.

A Corsicana salesman is up among the leaders in the Dallas zone in net dollar volume of new and used car sales for 1937, it was disclosed recently in a sales report sent out by Oldsmobile.

Joe Jefferson, Jr., who is employed by Jefferson Motor Company, in Corsicana, is the salesman, according to J. W. Anderson, owner of the dealership.

Jefferson's leadership places him in excellent position in Oldsmobile's zone and national competition being conducted this year under a plan similar to the one inaugurated in 1936.

Under this plan, if Jefferson is one of the 100 leading Oldsmobile salesmen in the nation at the close of the year, he will become a Saleisleader and receive a diamond merit emblem. He also will share in cash prize money to be awarded by Oldsmobile.

Budge and Mako Win Their Davis Cup Play Match

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 26.—(AP)—Overcoming surprisingly stubborn resistance, Don Budge and Gene Mako whipped C. R. D. Tuckey and F. H. D. Wilde in the doubles today, 6-3, 7-5, 7-9, 12-10, and gave the United States a 2-1 lead over Great Britain in the Davis cup challenge round with two more singles matches yet to be played.

With that one point advantage, American supporters now are confident Budge will whip Henry Wilford (Bunny) Austin in the final singles matches tomorrow for the clinching point even if Frankie Parker bows to Charles Edgar Hare in the opener.

After sweeping through the first two sets today in rapid style, the Californians appeared headed toward an easy triumph. But with the veteran Tuckey performing brilliantly in support of the untried Wilde, the British came roaring back to win the third set and almost snatched the fourth as well.

By a strange quirk, Tuckey captured every one of his service games until the 21st game of the fourth set. And when Budge and Mako broke through then, it spelled curtains for the British. Leading 11-10 then, Budge served a love game in the 22nd game for set and match.

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 26.—(AP)—The Davis Cup may symbolize international tennis supremacy in the rest of the world, but as far as this tennis capital is concerned the trophy is about to become the personal property of America's J. Donald Budge.

He has already won the singles and shared both doubles finals at Wimbledon this year, beaten Von Cramm in the inter-zone finals in one of the greatest matches ever seen on the center court, and is greatly favored to beat Austin in the final match of the challenge round tomorrow. Some believe the defection of Perry to the pro ranks gave Budge confidence to ascend to the world's Anyway the fact remains he carried the United States through the inter-zone finals and now it looks as if he will have to produce the clincher tomorrow. The United States is favored to hold a 2 to 1 lead after the doubles today, but Hare is given a better than even chance to tie it up in the first match with Frankie Parker tomorrow, leaving the final struggle with Austin up to Budge.

ARGENTINE SOCCER TEAM PROVE ABILITY AGAINST U. S. BEST

DALLAS, July 26.—(AP)—Argentina's agile soccer wizards, champions of the two Americas, today prepared to return to their homeland.

Two trophies—the Pan-American games championship cup and one presented by A. G. Dominguez, Mexico's consul at Dallas—were packed off by the colorful squad which triumphed over the cream of North American teams by overwhelming scores of 9-1, 8-1 and 13-0.

The vanquished were, respectively, the Trenton (N. J.) Highlanders, United States champions; the Winnipeg Irish Club, Canada's titleholders, and the Texas-Mexican all-stars, a choice of the best talent in these parts, above and below the Rio Grande.

Their final conquest last night of the Tex-Mex eleven was an almost pathetic rout from the start.

The team will sail from New York Wednesday.

Senior B. T. U. of First Baptist To Have Social Session

Miss Catherine Brown announced last evening that the Senior department of B. T. U. of the First Baptist church would have a "Worn Out Party" next Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Miss Nell Roberts, 700 West Fourth avenue. All of the young people of the church are invited to attend the party, which promises to be quite an event.

FOOTBALL PICTURES WILL BE MORE TRUE TO LIFE HEREAFTER

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., July 26.—(AP)—The motion picture football season is well under way and husky young men are getting their faces rubbed in the dirt for dear old Fox, Paramount and R-K-O.

They are doing it in a manner that no longer brings guffaws from those who know their football and expect to see gridiron fundamentals observed, even on the screen.

Cinema football epics used to be pretty funny. Any sandlot team could have trampled over the eleven that Harwell and Calford placed on the field for the amusement of motion picture audiences.

Along with their moves to make all motion pictures more plausible and less ludicrous to smarter audiences, the picture-makers are now putting much emphasis on the technical aspects of film football.

"Life Begins at College," the fall classic which 20th Century-Fox is now making, is typical.

Gil Kuhn, former center and captain of the University of Southern California eleven, is technical advisor and his job is to see that the football scenes are true and accurate, let the director invest it with dramatic stuff.

Allowable Oil Production In Louisiana Up

NEW ORLEANS, July 26.—(AP)—Allowable oil production in the state was increased 700 barrels per day for August over July in the monthly production and proration order issued today by William G. Rankin, conservation commissioner.

The increase will bring the total production of the state to 264,550 barrels daily. There will be a production of 180,050 barrels daily in Southern Louisiana and 84,500 barrels daily in North Louisiana.

An increase was allowed in the Rodessa field, bringing the total production per day in that field, the largest single field in the state, to 50,000 barrels per day.

The most significant increase was noted in the Evangeline field where an increase of 2,250 barrels per day has been allowed bringing the total production to 10,000 barrels per day.

There were minor increases and some losses noted throughout the report.

The Lake Long field appears for the first time on the report.

The Venice field, which was recently brought in, does not appear on the report.

Six Face Trial On Harboring Charges

EL DORADO, Ark., July 26.—(AP)—Six men faced trial here this week on charges ranging from harboring criminals to first degree murder as a result of a special grand jury's investigation into what Circuit Judge L. S. Britt described as a "crime wave."

Two of the six were indicted for murder in the slaying of Policeman J. A. Yocom last Wednesday night. Two were indicted for kidnaping an unnamed Texarkana man.

The murder indictments were returne dagainst Thomas J. Hutto, Dallas, and A. O. Wheatley, El Dorado taxi driver. Hutto was wounded in the gun fight in which Yocum was slain, following a $60 drug store holdup. They also were indicted for the robbery.

Hutto and Paul Carpenter, Borger, Texas, were indicted for kidnaping the Texarkanian.

Trials for Hutto and Carpenter were set for Tuesday. Others are slated for Wednesday.

Quorum Unavailable For Meeting State Board of Education

AUSTIN, July 26.—(AP)—The controversy over the amount of money the state shall pay next year for education of children in its free school system still was undecided today.

Five members of the state board of education met here yesterday to consider reduction of the $22 per capita rate set by that body recently but because the number was one short of a quorum were unable to transact business.

They issued a call for another meeting in Dallas next Saturday and also asked Ghent Sanderford, president of the board, to take similar action, which previously he had declined to do.

Soviet Fliers Are Acclaimed Heroes

MOSCOW, July 26.—(AP)—The three Soviet fliers who blazed an aerial trail over the North Pole to America last month returned from the United States today as heroes—acclaimed as the kind of men "who destroy the Soviet Union's enemies."

From the train Valeri Chekaloff, Georgi Baidukoff and Alexander Bellakoff received kisses first from their wives and then from prominent aviation authorities.

Seabright Golden Jubilee Net Meet Gets Under Way

SEA BRIGHT, N. J., July 26.—(AP)—The Sea Bright Lawn Tennis and Cricket Club's Golden Jubilee Invitation tennis tournament got under way today with a galaxy of stars among the mixed field of 85 competing.

Top-seeded in the men's division was Bobby Riggs, Los Angeles.

Another contender was Wilmer Allison 1935 National singles king, who came here fresh from the successful defense of his Longwood Bowl title at Brookline, Mass., Saturday.

Looking to the national championships in September, Jadwiga Jedrzejowska of Poland aimed for a match with top-seeded Alice Marble, National singles champ and defending titlist, whom she beat in the semi-finals of the all-England championship.

Governor Allred Announces Several Appointees Today

AUSTIN, July 26.—(AP)—Lester N. Flint of Dallas, C. H. Page of Austin and Herbert Voelcker of Wichita Falls were appointed today to the new state architect board.

Governor James V. Allred named Flint for the six-year term, Page for four years and Voelcker for two.

The governor appointed Dr. Nelson Greeman of San Antonio and Dr. H. G. Towle of Snyder to the state optometry board and reappointed M. E. Dooley of Wolfe City to the pharmacy board.

District Judge Ralph W. Yarborough of Austin was chosen presiding judge of the Third Administrative Judicial District to succeed District Judge J. D. Moore of Austin. Allred said he made the change at Judge Moore's request.

St. John's Young People Guests Of Rector and Wife

The young people of St. John's Episcopal church were guests of Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Haden, Jr., at the rectory Sunday evening at seven o'clock for a buffet supper.

The table was laid with a white lace cloth and the entire home was made beautiful by the use of summer flowers for decoration.

Mesdames Johnie Pierce, Robert Watt, R. B. Molloy and William Hastings assisted Mrs. Haden in serving a cold meat and cheese plate; relishes, cookies and and in tea to the thirty guests.

Allyn Lang, assisted in entertaining the young people, and at the close of the social hour, Mr. Haden conducted a round table discussion on the subject: "What is the unique contribution of the church to society?" It was a most enjoyable as well as instructive evening for all who attended.

DOUBLE HEADER MAY BE NECESSARY TELL BASEBALL WINNER

LUBBOCK, July 26.—(AP)—The curtain will be drawn Tuesday afternoon on the seventh annual Avalanche-Journal baseball tournament, in a performance that offers possibility of a double-header being required to determine a winner.

The Lubbock Hubbers will meet the winners of this afternoon's game between Brownfield and the Amerada Oilers of Hobbs, N. M. The Hubbers, only undefeated club of the eight that entered, would have to take the field again should they drop the initial Tuesday game to the Oilers, once beaten.

The Hubbers Sunday grabbed second money certainty by a 11 to 1 victory over the Oilers and established themselves favorites to cop the prize Tuesday.

Tahoka, a surprise club from the start, passed from the tourney picture when the slugging Brownfield club hit eight times to take a 6 to 2 victory.

Lefty Blanchard, who had pitched a hitless shutout over Tahoka in the current joust, Sunday gave up seven hits to the Oilers. For eight innings, he and Everett Garule of the Oilers engaged in a neat mound duel.

San Antonioan Wins Two Net Titles

SAN ANTONIO, July 26.—(AP)—Jesse Pfeiffer, San Antonio, won two titles yesterday afternoon in the Olmost Tennis Club's annual tournament.

Pfeiffer defeated Edgar Weller, Austin, in the men's single final 6-4, 6-2, 6-3.

He then teamed with Bert Weltens, Texas University player, to take the men's doubles title from Paschal Walthall and John N. Wood, San Antonio, by the same score.

CORSICANA, TEX., JULY 27, 1937

THE RIGHT TO WORK

There can be no real doubt about the issue raised by a "national citizens' committee" regarding "the constitutional right of American citizens to work without molestation," and the duty of constituted government to protect them in that right. The principle has only to be stated to be accepted. American citizens have a right to work, and likewise a right not to work. The committee expands the idea thus:

"We believe it the duty of government to guarantee, by the impartial enforcement of law, the right of every citizen to work or strike as he may choose, and to join or abstain from joining any labor organization as he may desire."

The Constitution says nothing expressly about labor rights, but the principle as stated is doubtless implied in the basic law, and is implied more definitely in the Wagner Act.

It might be stretched farther, however, than some of the citizens spreading this gospel really intend. If a man "has a right to work," many will insist, he not merely has a right not to be stopped from working—as by a strike in which he refuses to join—but he "has a right to a job." And if he has such a right, it then becomes incumbent on society, through government, to provide him the job—to furnish work regularly for all who want it.

There is, as yet, no general agreement about that.

LEARNING TO LIVE.

"We live to learn, yet slowly learn to live, so that our living brings us no return," wrote Lord Byron, who himself was a good example of it. Robert M. Hutchins, the still-young president of the University of Chicago, wants to change that, as far as college education is concerned. He is helping with an experiment in another college "to try out the ancient idea of educating people to live, rather than to earn a living."

It means, in plain English, a revival of the "liberal arts" and in general the "cultural" parts of a college education, as against the mere "vocational" or bread-and-butter courses to which education has tended in late years. He thinks the experiment at St. Johns College, in Maryland, might be a turning point in American educational history. It will not mean going back to heavy doses of Greek and Latin, but it will mean studying the great books of the past.

This is very fine; and yet people must earn a living in order to live. To do it, they must learn how to do things that will get them jobs. And most young people, like most of their elders, are not much interested in culture. It will doubtless be necessary, more and more, to provide special training to fit a big majority of boys and girls for employment.

Of course, those bright youngsters who want culture and high mental development should have it, too, for their own sake and the sake of society, for we need intellectual leaders along with engineers and mechanics.

Even so gifted a people as Americans can learn something new, and one thing the nation learns increasingly is to mind its own business.

They have an air-cooling system in the United States Senate, but it doesn't affect the hot air.

I GO FISHING AGAIN.

I've passed up the men with their fancy reels and boxes of tackle fine,
Its' been several years since I've had the thrill of a bass on a silken line.
For a creature of curious moods am I which strangely I can't control
And I couldn't resist the grin on the face of that boy with the bamboo pole.

There he stood on the cottage path, a picture of rare delight,
A can of worms and a bamboo pole, and I with a piece to write.
But this was the joy I had waited for—to go to a fishing hole
Once more as I went in the long ago—with a boy and a bamboo pole.

So he led me off to his favorite haunts as blithe as a boy can be,
"I'll betcher I beat yer! I'll betcher I do," he smilingly said to me.
Now there was a challenge to stir the soul in a speech that I understood
"I'll betcher a million you don't," said I, though I secretly hoped he would.

Now all I can say is I've fished once more in the pool that I used to know
Where I captured the joy of a few glad hours from the days of the long ago,
But this I'll add, though you fish for perch or cast with a plug or troll
"I'll betcher" you'll find that it's hard to beat the boy with a bamboo pole.

OPPOSITION WITHOUT BITTERNESS

The best tribute to Joe Robinson that we've seen is Walter Lippman's:

"Senator Robinson's friends were more numerous than his partisan supporters. For he had the capacity, so essential to the working of representative government, to be a staunch partisan without injecting into his political struggles the poison of hatred and irreconciliability. He fought cleanly, and he passes away leaving a multitude of opponents who are still his friends."

This is a rare and precious gift in public life.

A "NEW" DISEASE.

George Gershwin, the young musical genius who leaped to fame a few years ago with his "Rhapsody in Blue," dies at 38, probably before reaching his full powers. And the cause is "a brain tumor."

A few years ago the public seldom heard of brain tumors. Lately they tend to become commonplace. Every little while we read of deaths from this cause, or of operations for such tumors, often unsuccessful. And in a distressing number of cases they appear in brilliant and useful brains.

Are there really many more brain tumors than there used to be? Or has this ailment been frequent all along, but the doctors have only lately learned to detect it?

If there are more, what is the cause? Some new factor in our civilization? A new mode of life, different food, different surroundings? Medical science is continually overcoming old diseases, but it seems to a layman that new ones, no less fatal, are always taking their place, especially in the realm of mind and brain.

TROTZKY GOES FISHING

News from Mexico, regarding Leon Trotzky, will reassure many people. The Communist firebrand has left the Mexican capital and gone fishing, "accompanied by only one policeman and members of his secretarial staff." He is an expert fisherman, say his aides, and has wanted to fish for a long time, but "has felt obliged to continue his attacts on Stalin and others, and to write articles giving his views on current development in the Soviet Union."

He needn't have been so conscientious about that. What he wrote and said doesn't seem to have accomplished much in Russia, anyway, except to make a lot of people madder at him. He can probably do more for the world by just fishing for a few weeks.

It would be a wonderful thing, too, if Stalin would go fishing. Also the premier of Japan and a few Japanese generals. Hitler and Mussolini, too. And some of those Spanish leaders. Indeed, if it isn't treasonable to suggest such a thing, it might do a whole lot of good in this country if Congress would pack up and go fishing.

Look Out For the Business End!

THAT LAST ADVENTURE

Amelia Earhart was a charming woman, a gallant flyer and a trail-maker. She will be missed. There are too few of her kind.

But her "Flying Laboratory" was not really a laboratory. It was a big, luxurious airplane in which an adventurous, air-minded amateur could do what she wanted to do, having a glorious time and incidentally, perhaps, performing some service for aerial transportation.

The service in her last great adventure seems to have been negative rather than positive. She seems to have shown other aviators some things it is well not to do. Professional observers have yet to give their final verdict, but from what few facts are available the undertaking appears to show at least these practical defects:

That the airship was unnecessarily large and heavy for a scouting expedition;

That with more room and weight than it needed for passengers, it lacked carrying capacity for enough fuel for a safe margin on long hops;

That if it did not lack adequate equipment for communication in case of danger, under all foreseeable circumstances, the equipment was not in proper condition;

That the aviatress herself, with all her flying skill, seems to have been unskilled in radio communication.

These conclusions, if valid, should help many another amateur flyer. But they will also tend to leave such ambitious flights to professionals.

TRAFFIC FACTS.

The most dangerous drivers are the old fellows from 60 to 70. But don't start strutting, young man. Next to them are the bright young fellows from 20 to 30. And the latter do more harm to themselves and others, because there are more of them.

And you, pedestrain-and-proud-of-it, you needn't feel so self-righteous. The National Safety Council finds that 55 per cent of all accidents are caused by pedestrains. You can't walk recklessly without getting yourself and other people smashed up.

Motorists can't blame bad weather and bad turns for most of their troubles, either, because four-fifths of the accidents occur on straight roads in clear weather.

P. S.—Drive by day whenever there's a choice, for there's twice as much risk of death at night.

THE SPANISH PLAGUE

Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, might almost be suspected of a sense of humor when he warns that it would "approach the abyss of war if non-intervention in Spain should collapse." Europe has been on the verge of war for months, just because non-intervention in Spain has collapsed. German and Italian pretense of neutrality has been a farce all along.

Labor Leader Clement Atlee in the House of Commons blurts out the plain fact that the Fascist nations have never intended to carry out a policy of non-intervention that Hitler and Mussolini have been "laughing at the whole subject and laughing at Great Britain." And there is no indication that they intend to reform. They are advising and financing Gen. Franco. They have large bodies of troops in Spain fighting for and along with the rebels. They are doing all they can to keep the people of Spain from deciding their own fate

Americans, however, while sympathizing on the whole with the regular Spanish government because it was lawfully elected and apparently represented the choice of the nation, nevertheless can't develop much enthusiasm for either side. Both sides have too many crimes on their heads. Against the rebellion and the cruel excesses of the rebels may be set the no less cruel and crazy deeds of the Barcelona anarchists and other strange breeds of destructive radicals

Officially we do well to avoid entanglement. Unofficially we're inclined to say, "A plague on both your houses!"

Two Corsicanans Convalescing From Recent Operations

The friends of Mrs. Allyn Gordon, who underwent an operation recently, will be glad to know she is at home and is improving nicely. She will be glad to have her friends call.

Unusually Fine And Luscious Peaches Are Grown Near Corsicana

H. L. Wilson is a man of many vocations. That is he is versatile and capable in all these none who know him will deny. A basket of the most perfect Elberta peaches that one could imagine presented to the Daily Sun staff Thursday, grown, nurtured and hand-picked by Mr. Wilson himself was ample testimony to the fact that he is a horticulturalist of no mean ability.

Mr. Wilson is an affable and very capable linotype operator in the Daily Sun composing room, and he handles this job well. But he still finds time for other things. He resides on the Womack place just north of Corsicana on Highway 75, and has there several acres which he has just planted to various crops that bring him extra compensation in the marketing of products derived directly and indirectly from the soil. He has cows, chickens, and hogs, to say nothing of the valuable peach orchard from whence the aforesaid perfectly formed, colored and flavored peaches came.

Mr. Wilson states that his peaches this year are unusually fine and that he expects to have between 600 and 700 bushels from his orchard.

Thanks for the peaches, Mr. Wilson.

Miss Evelyn Bunch Hostess at Shower For August 1 Bride

Miss Evelyn Bunch entertained Thursday evening with a miscellaneous shower complimenting Miss Lola Ferguson, who is to become the bride of Reuben Bunch of Palestine, the first day of August.

The shower being a surprise, the guests assembled in the prettily decorated home of Miss Bunch, 1509 West Fourth avenue and when all had arrived they were invited next door on the lawn of Mrs. Elmer Keith, which had been made very attractive by the use of flowers and lights.

Here the young people indulged in numerous games until the gifts were brought in for the honoree.

Homemade ice cream in colors of pink and white was served with various kinds of cookies.

For decorations Miss Bunch used vases of pink zinnias, white oleanders and perennial phlox, which further carried out the color scheme of pink and white.

There were about 30 guests.

Crow Is Becoming One of Favorite Dishes of Nation

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(AP)—The agriculture department, eyeing a rapidly diminishing pile of cookery bulletins, decided today America has accepted crow as a national dish.

"From all over the country," said Col. H. P. Sheldon of the biological survey bureau, "there is an increasing demand for this booklet of crow recipes."

The bureau learned that even restaurants — particularly in the west—are featuring the fowl on their menus. The hardest feature of making the country crow-conscious, said Col. Sheldon, who eats it, is overcoming the ancient piece of folklore that eating crow is a mark of humiliation.

The best way to introduce crow to the home dinner table, it advised, is just to serve it unannounced and watch the results.

CASH INCOME OF FARMERS GREATER FIRST HALF YEAR

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(AP)—The agriculture department reported today farmers received a 12 per cent greater cash income from the sale of their products the first half of this year than in the corresponding 1936 period.

The report placed the total for the first six months of 1937 at $3,503,000,000, or $376,000,000 more than in the first half of last year.

Cash income during June amounted to $604,000,000, or $17,000,000 more than in the same month last year. It was the largest June income since 1930.

Negro Surprised In Negro Tailor Shop; Admits Other Crimes

A negro man was surprised in a negro tailor shop on East Fifth avenue early Friday morning by city officers and placed in the city jail. It was reported a window had been broken out to gain access to the building and a quantity of clothing had been piled near the window.

Chief of Police Bruce Nutt said early Friday morning that the negro had admitted burglarizing another negro tailor shop a few days ago, and also the robbery of the Hays Bonner grocery store on East First avenue. Officers were continuing their investigations.

GOOD WILL BANQUET AT BLOOMING GROVE LARGELY ATTENDED

BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN GATHER DISCUSS MUTUAL PROBLEMS

By JOHN SAM HASLAM
Daily Sun Staff

Between 125 and 150 Blooming Grove and Corsicana business and professional men and women attended the good will banquet sponsored by the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce in the Isbell gymnasium Thursday evening at Blooming Grove. The object of the banquet was to enable citizens of the two cities to get better acquainted so they can assist each other in working out problemms of mutual interest.

R. W. Knight, Chamber of Commerce secretary-manager, was the principal speaker, and at the conclusion of his address introduced several Blooming Grove business and professional men who expressed their opinions as to the good that can be accomplished by the achievement of closer and more harmonious relationships between citizens of the two communities.

The invocation was pronounced by Rev. J. W. Whitefield, pastor of the Blooming Grove Methodist church, after which the dinner was served.

Tables for six persons each were arranged in the spacious auditorium, with floral decorations. The tasty dinner, consisting of fried chicken, English peas and pimento, creamed potatoes and gravy, tomatoes and lettuce, iced tea and pie a la mode, which had been prepared by the Parent-Teacher Association members, was served.

Knight Principal Speaker.

R. W. Knight, Chamber of Commerce secretary-manager, was the toastmaster and principal speaker. In order that everyone could get acquainted, Mr. Knight had each one stand up, tell his name and classification of business or profession.

He presented a male quartet made up of K. L. McKeown, H. E. Metcalf, W. B. Waddell and E. E. Burkhart, which sang a capella, "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny," and "Bells of St. Mary's." Miss Linda Sims, popular reader, gave her interpretation of a bride's domestic troubles and followed it with a short encore.

In opening his talk, Mr. Knight complimented the Parent-Teacher Association for its preparation and service of the fine dinner, and added such an organization is indispensible to a community if that community is to progress. He said that such an organization usually sets the pace for others to follow.

Mr. Knight told briefly the object of the banquet, and said its primary purpose is to enable Blooming Grove and Corsicana citizens to get better acquainted, to the end that they might better work out their mutual problems, and help each other. In this connection, Mr. Knight declared:

Urges Golden Rule.

"We do not want to sap the business out of your community and from your merchants, but I believe a decade hence we will all be better off if we meet now on even grounds, observe the golden rule and work together for the betterment of the community as a whole of which each of us is an integral part."

The speaker cited several instances, showing that good roads will not make a "flag station" of the smaller community, but will make it a more wholesome place in which to live.

"Do not be afraid of competition," Mr. Knight declared, "but all of us as business or professional men have reason to be afraid of progress. Progress is always marching forward, and if you are not right on your toes and keep your business practices up with the times, progress will overtake and pass you."

Discussing ways Corsicana can be of assistance to Blooming Grove, Mr. Knight called special attention to the Blooming Grove Fair. He said Corsicana can furnish inspirational speakers for any type of program; it can assist Blooming Grove's service club; it can help in vocational agriculture work, and can co-operate with farmers and others interested in agriculture to raise the spendable agricultural income in Navarro county.

In closing, Mr. Knight said:

"Your problems are our problems, and our problems are your problems—when you need us, feel free to call on us at any time."

Blooming Grove Fair.

Mr. Knight introduced Bruce McCormick, president of the Blooming Grove Fair, Inc., for a short talk. Mr. McCormick said plans are nearing completion for the 14th annual fair, Sept. 30 to Oct. 2, and will include a carnival, rodeo and prizes. Mr. McCormick said the fair costs $1,000 annually, and it has gone through the depression without missing a year, because the merchants and businessmen of the community believed in it, and gave their time and money to put it over.

Mr. McCormick said Corsicana has co-operated by buying space, booths, giving money, visiting the fair and helping with the presentation of the style show. The object of the fair, he said in closing, is to make the community a better place to live, to make better homes and foster the production of better farm products.

Mrs. J. E. Walker, president of the Parent-Teacher Association, was the next Blooming Grove speaker introduced by Mr. Knight.

She said: "This is a very happy occasion, and we are glad to have you with us."

"The Parent-Teacher Association's aim is not to make money but to promote a better understanding and better relations between the teachers and parents," Mrs. Walker said. The association has bought typewriters for the school's typing department; it bought velour curtains for the auditorium, and numerous other things. She said Blooming Grove feels very closely related to Corsicana because there are many former Blooming Grove citizens living in Corsicana.

Editor Speaks.

W. E. Crawford, editor of the Blooming Grove Times, was next introduced by Mr. Knight. Mr. Crawford said meetings such as last night's banquet are "wonderful things for this county and every county that has them." He added they enable a person to make new friends and get better acquainted with old friends.

"I think much good will be accomplished, because it does us good to know Corsicana business men are interested in our problems. We are glad you came, and welcome you back," he concluded.

Mayor Robert High of Blooming Grove was introduced next, but did not speak.

C. C. Isbell, superintendent of the Blooming Grove schools, after complimenting the program brought by Corsicana, said the Blooming Grove schools offer 30 courses, of which 27 are affiliated units. The plant is modern in every respect with fine equipment, and offers many subjects in addition to the usual academic ones. The active Parent-Teacher Association is a real asset to the school, and has the happy faculty of helping the school rather than trying to run it.

Mr. Knight introduced Sydney Marks, Corsicana, who was one of the committee active in arranging the banquet. Mr. Marks said he wanted to do all he could to cement more closely the relationships between Corsicana and Blooming Grove, and expressed his gratitude at the fine response given the Corsicana visitors by the Blooming Grove citizens.

W. P. Orme, vocational agriculture teacher in the Blooming Grove schools, spoke briefly and closed the meeting by leading all in the singing of "The Eyes of Texas."

Tax Returns Of James Roosevelt, Morgenthau Open

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(AP)—The congressional tax investigating committee agreed today to allow any member desiring to do so to examine the income tax returns of James Roosevelt, the President's son, or Secretary Morgenthau.

Chairman Doughton (D-NC) told reporters Representative Treadway (R-Mass) had made the "equivalent" of a request that the returns of Roosevelt and Morgenthau be submitted to the committee.

He said the committee voted that any returns called for by any member should be sent to the joint congressional committee on internal revenue taxation, where any member of the tax investigation committee might scrutinize them.

They would not be made public, he added.

Representative Fish (R-NY) had suggested that the committee examine the returns of Roosevelt and Morgenthau with a view to determining whether they made use of personal holding companies for tax avoidance.

Fairfield Native Dies Palestine; Business Change

FAIRFIELD, July 24.—(Spl.)—At 1 p. m. Thursday District Clerk J. H. Harding was notified that his brother, Ray Harding, aged 50, had just died suddenly at his home in Palestine. Mr. Harding, who was born and reared here, is survived by his wife and several children, and the following brothers and sisters: W. W. Harding, Harding's Store; J. H. Harding, Fairfield; Nat Harding, Palestine; John Harding, Kerrville; Mrs. Lizzie Lake, and Mrs. Mary Howeth of Houston.

To Improve Business.

J. D. Burleson, furniture dealer and funeral director, closed a lease Tuesday with T. A. McIlveen for the large brick building on the south corner of the west side of the square. Mr. Burleson states the building will be converted into a modern funeral home with chapel, etc. The furniture business will be continued in the building it now occupies. Leasing of additional quarters was made necessary by the continual growth and development of the business which was established here two and one-half years ago.

FORMER JUSTICE OF SUPREME COURT OF TEXAS DIED FRIDAY

WILLIAM E. HAWKINS PASSED AWAY FOLLOWING RECENT OPERATION

ABILENE, July 23.—(AP)—William E. Hawkins, former member of the supreme court of Texas, died here today.

Judge Hawkins had resided here since 1930. He would have been 74 years old next Sept. 26. He had undergone an operation a week ago.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Judge Hawkins came here after spending two years in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, in administeration and settlement of the mining estate of Major E. A. Burke, who was his uncle.

William Edward Hawkins was born Sept. 16, 1869, in Greenwood, Caddo parish, La. He was brought to Texas as a small child by his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Samuel J. Hawkins.

As a youth Mr. Hawkins was the first professor of mathematics in Dallas high school He attended the University of Louisiana in New Orleans, and was graduated from Southwestern University, Georgetown, Texas, in 1886.

Immediately after his graduation, he was married to Miss Ella Dickason in Dallas. They observed their 51st wedding anniversary last Nov. 11.

Admitted to the bar in 1887, Mr. Hawkins practiced in Dallas until 1905, when he became first assistant attorney general under Robert Vance Davidson. There followed a year as state commissioner of insurance and banking before he was elected associate justice of the state supreme court. He served on that court eight years.

Upon leaving the bench he moved to Breckenridge, living there until he went to Honduras.

Surviving are a son, Lindsay Hawkins, Breckenridge; three daughters, Miss Eudora Hawkins and Mrs. Marion Samson, Abilene, and Mrs. Stafford G. Hel, Dundee.

Served Eight Years.

AUSTIN, July 23.—(AP)—William E. Hawkins served as an associate justice of the state supreme court from 1912 to 1920 with Chief Thomas J. Brown and Associate Justice Nelson Phillips.

Prior to that he was state banking commissioner and an assistant attorney general.

Kerens Chapter of Future Farmers At Area Conference

KERENS, July 24.—(Spl.)—Roy Cloud, vocational agriculture teacher in Kerens public school, took 20 members of the local F. F. A. chapter to the area F. F. A. encampment at Lake Worth last week, and while there the local boys won the championship in the softball tournament.

This week John Afton Mayo, Washburn Crawford, Glen Sessions and Mr. Cloud are attending the state F. R. A. convention in Arlington.

Flew Across Country.

Eugene Norris, who is a radio operator in the marines, flew to Dallas Sunday, en route from the East Coast to California, in a cabin plane. He was met in Dallas by his mother, Mrs. Rosa Threet, and sisters, Mary Hope Threet and Mrs. W. P. Ingram, who visited with him for a short time.

CANCER RESEARCH CENTER BE OPERATED BY U. S. GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(AP)—The public health service rejoiced today over congressional approval for erecting and operating a cancer research center at government expense.

The measure, authorizing $750,000 for construction and $700,000 a year for expenses, is expected to be signed quickly by President Roosevelt.

"That is just about seven times as much money as we have ever had before for cancer research," said Dr. L. R. Thompson of the public health service.

The benevolence of a cancer victim and his family may be a factor in locating the building.

Present arrangements call for its erection near suburban Bethesda, Md., where construction is under way on other federal buildings devoted to disease study. The land for them was donated by Luke Wilson, Washington business man who died of cancer last Monday.

Dr. Thompson said Wilson indicated before his death he would donate additional ground and his family has continued his interest.

It is intended to confine the new center's work to research, Dr. Thompson said. One of the principal parts is to be a physics laboratory where researchers can study the effects of X-rays and radium on cancer cells.

To Speak Here In Behalf Amendment For Harris County

Judge Roy Hofheinz of Harris county will start on a statewide campaign tour in behalf of Constitutional Amendment No. 5 on July 30 and will be in Corsicana Tuesday, August 19, at 10 a. m. to speak in behalf of the measure.

Although to be voted on by the entire state, the amendment affects only Harris county and under its provisions, if adopted, that county or any road district in it might levy a special tax for road and bridge construction only.

EL PASO, July 24.—Funeral services were held here Friday morning for Mrs. F. W. Warren, Jr., mother of two children, who was drowned in Elephant Butte, N. M., last Sunday and her body not recovered until Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Warren was the youngest sister of Sam D. Lattimore of Corsicana.

ANOTHER TEXAS CONVICT WAS ARRESTED IN ST. LOUIS AND ADMITS LITTLE ROCK ROBBERY

ST. LOUIS, July 23.—(AP)—Acting on an "underworld" tip, Detective-Lieut. Martin Cliffe and a raiding party of six officers surrounded a rooming house at dawn today and arrested a man they believed to be Harry Campbell, escaped Texas convict.

The man, caught as he jumped out of a first-floor window, admitted his identity, Cliffe reported, and told how he walked away last February from the Texas state prison farm at Huntsville, where he was serving 25 years for robbery of a Galveston bank in 1932.

Early in June, Cliffe related in his report, the man said he obtained between $1,000 and $2,000 in a robbery at Little Rock, Ark. The officer quoted him as follows:

"I held up a place in Little Rock, Ark., I think it was a bank, and I got somewhere between $1,000 and $2,000."

Cliffe described his prisoner as being a "quiet, soft-spoken man who talks as though he were a southern gentleman."

A check of fingerprint records, Cliffe announced later, definitely established the man's identity. Although their names are the same, Cliffe said the man was not to be confused with the Harry Campbell of the Karpis gang, who was sentenced on May 12, 1936, to life imprisonment at Leavenworth penitentiary for the kidnaping of Edward G. Bremer St. Paul banker.

Department of justice agents said their records showed Campbell of the Karpis gang still was in Leavenworth.

Took Galveston Payroll.

GALVESTON, July 23.—(AP)—Harry Campbell was given a 25 year sentence here in 1932 on a charge of slugging and robbing F. B. Munive, an employe of the Elband Department store of a $5,600 payroll. The robbery occurred just after Munive had left the first National bank.

Campbell was also arrested in connection with the kidnaping of N. J. Neidermann, credit manager of the Elband store in the fall of 1932 and robbery of the store safe of $2,600 but evidence against him was held insufficient.

Americans Fighting in Spain.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(AP)—State department officials estimated today there are between 1,000 and 2,000 Americans fighting in Spain despite strict regulations against United States citizens entering that country during the civil war.

Passports issued by the state department are marked "not valid for Spain."

SCOTTSBORO CASES DISMISSED AGAINST FIVE DEFENDANTS

DOCKET AT DECATUR, ALABAMA, CLEARED NOTED COURT CASES

DECATUR, Ala, July 24. (AP)—Rape charges against five of the nine negro "Scottsboro case" defendants were dropped by the state today.

The state move came after Ozie Powell pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with intent to murder, and the rape accusation against Powell was dropped.

Judge W. W. Callahan gave Powell a 20-year sentence on the assault charge, which arose from an attack on Deputy Sheriff Edgar Blalock in January, 1936.

Powell was shot after he stabbed Blalock as he was being transferred to a Birmingham jail.

Olen Montgomery, Willie Roberson, Eugene Williams and Roy Wright were the other defendants ordered freed of rape charges.

They had not been tried since the original hearings at Scottsboro, Ala., in April, 1931.

Thus, in swift and dramatic fashion, the court docket here was cleared of the "Scottsboro case" after more than six years of legal maneuvers.

Powell made his plea just after the 11th jury to sit in the case convicted Charlie Weems and set his sentence at 75 years' imprisonment.

The jury was out more than 20 hours.

During his summation yesterday, Samuel S. Leibowitz of New York, chief of the defense, predicted his client would be convicted. Verdicts of guilty have been returned by ten previous juries in the case. Eight of the verdicts were death sentences.

The negroes are accused of mass assault on Mrs. Victoria Price and Ruby Bates aboard a freight train in Northern Alabama on March 25, 1931. The United States supreme court overruled death sentence convictions twice.

In this series of trials a death sentence has been imposed on Clarence Norris and Andy Wright has been sentenced to 99 years' imprisonment. Heywood Patterson was sentenced to 75 years' imprisonment by a Morgan county jury last year.

Seven Persons Killed In Auto And Truck Crash

PRIEST BRIDGE, Md., July 23.—Six persons were burned to death in a flaming auto here early today after a truck struck their parked passenger car and turned it over. A seventh died later of his injuries.

The truck driver rescued a 7-year old boy by pulling him through a window of the car.

The others, all members one family were tangled in the back of the machine and could not free themselves.

The dead were Bernard Lammer, 21, driver of the car; his three sisters, Mildred, 19; Anna May, 13, and Pauline, 29; and his two cousins, Frances Haker, 17; Frances Baldwin, 14, and David Manning, 7. All lived in Laurel, Md.

The driver of the truck was B. M. King of Muddy Point, Va. He said he was blinded by the lights of an approaching car and struck the rear of Lammer's car, parked beside the road.

Sgt. Elon A. Turner of the county police arrested King on an open charge and held him in bond of $500 for the outcome of an inquest.

Bus Passengers Injured.

NEW YORK, July 23.—(AP)—Twenty-two persons were injured today when a big bus loaded with city-bound commuters collided at Rockaway Beach with a gasoline truck which exploded. The explosion sprayed the wrecked vehicle with flaming fuel.

One passenger, drenched with blazing gasoline, was thrown into twelve feet of water in nearby Jamaica Bay by a fellow victim. He was pulled out of the bay badly burned.

Kerens Boy Marries Oklahoma Girl At Wharton July 10

KERENS, July 24.—(Spl.)—Of inetrest to the many friends of the family was the marriage of Mrs. Louise D. Collins, daughter of Mrs. Areline Dickens of Duncan, Okla., to William McCluney, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McCluney of Kerens, which took place on July 10, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. McGlothlin in Whorton, Texas.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Milton H. Knox of the Presbyterian church, with Miss Alma Shannon and Raymond Wilson as the only attendants.

A reception and wedding supper was served to a few friends and relatives, after which the couple left for a trip to Galveston and other South Texas points, after which they will be at home in Whorton.

Mrs. McCluney is a graduate of Southwestern University and has studied violin at the Juilliard School of Music in New York. For the past year she has been director of the Whorton high school orchestra and instructor of stringed instrumental music.

Mr. McCluney attended Trinity University at Waxahachie and at present is connected with the credit department of the International Harvester Co.

PLAN HEARINGS IN ALL PARTS NATION ON NEW FARM BILL

ADMINISTRATION MEASURE PROVIDES FOR CONTROL OF MAJOR CROPS

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(AP)—The senate agricultural committee voted today to hold a series of hearings throughout the country on the administration's new farm bill, providing for more stringent production control of five major crops.

Senator Pope (D-Ida), senate sponsor of the bill, said the committee action meant there was "virtually no prospect" that the legislation would be enacted this session.

The committee proposed to name a subcommittee of five to hold the hearings. At least one would be held in each of the five crop areas.

Pope said hearings would be held in regions growing cotton, corn, wheat, tobacco, and rice, and probably would continue until midwinter.

While the senate committee acted on the presumption that no general farm legislation would be passed this session, Speaker Bankhead expressed belief that congress should enact before adjournment agriculture price-stabilization legislation embracing the "ever-normal" granary and crop control.

The house agriculture committee had under consideration today a bill introduced by Chairman Jones (D-Tex) providing for the granary and voluntary crop control.

Reward Offered For Knowledge Of Fate of Fliers

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—(AP)—Sydney S. Bowman, close friend of George Palmer Putnam, announced today a reward of $2,000 would be paid for information which would "definitely clear up the mystery" surrounding the disappearance of Amelia Earhart and her navigator, Capt. Fred Noonan.

Putnam is the husband of Miss Earhart, who, with Noonan, were lost in the South Pacific seas on an attempted globe-girdling flight.

Bowman said the reward would be paid promptly for the recovery and delivery of any part of the Earhart plane or its contents which might be identified and which would clearly reveal the fate of the missing fliers.

While the announcement came from Pan-Pacific press bureau here, of which Bowman is head, Vice President E. E. Brodie of the bureau revealed that the $2,000 was being posted by Putnam.

Despite an exhaustive search by the United States navy and coast guard, Bowman said, the "belief is held that there is a chance that further investigation may disclose information upon which absolute conclusions may be formed."

"It is regarded as possible that ships operating in the South Pacific may come upon evidence that would end speculation regarding the famous aviatrix and her navigator and it is to encourage this co-operation that the reward has been offered," the announcement said.

VANDENBERG PLANS OFFER AMENDMENT WAGNER LABOR ACT

WAGE AND HOUR LEGISLATION EXPECTED BRING MAJOR CONFLICT

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) complicated the talk of early congressional adjournment today by announcing he would offer amendments to the Wagner Labor Relations Act when the senate takes up wage-hour legislation next week.

His statement foreshadowed a major conflict over expanding what critics have called "one sided" legislation in favor of labor unions. The Wagner act guarantees the right of workers to organize unions and to bargain collectively.

Despite indications that the Vandenberg proposal would prolong debate over the wage and hour bill, many legislators talked hopefully of winding up the session early in August.

A general disposition was evident to strip the program down to bills now ready for action without waiting for commitees to prepare additional measures such as general farm legislation or a government reorganization bill.

Whether President Roosevelt would agree to this modified schedule was expected to be learned in week-end conferences between the chief executive and Senator Barkley (D-Ky), new majority leader.

Barkley accompanied the president on a Potomac cruise.

Barkley, before leaving for the trip, indicated he was willing to curtail the program somewhat. He insisted, however, that congress would stay here long enough to act on four major bills:

1. The wage-hour bill, authorizing a board to fix minimum wages no higher than 40 cents an hour and a maximum work-week of not less than 40 hours.

2. Loans and grants for low cost housing developments, approved yesterday by the senate labor committee.

3. Plugging of tax loopholes. The senate-house committee expects to complete legislation soon as a result of its investigation.

4. The skeleton bill to speed up lower federal courts, probably ready for senate debate in a week.

Vice President Without Aide.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(AP)—Vice President Garner finished today his busiest week of the session without the assistance of his wife-secretary.

Mrs. Garner remained in Texas when the vice-president returned Monday to take a hand in the court bill battle. She has managed his office for more than 30 years.

Congressional oldsters interpreted her absence as meaning just one thing: That congress soon will adjourn.

Crop Control Outlook Bad

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(AP)—A senate dispute weakened today the possibility of passing crop control legislation before congress adjourns.

Chairman Smith (D-SC) of the senate agriculture committee said: "I don't anticipate any general farm legislation at this session. I've been in the senate 30 years, and we have passed some legislation for the farmer every year—and we all know what it has amounted to."

Senator Black (D-Ala) urged passage of a farm bill, but Majority Leader Barkley told reporters he doubted whether the committee could get a bill into shape for a vote this session.

Price Fixing Bill.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(AP)—The house probably will take up Tuesday senate approved legislation legalizing price fixing between manufacturers and retailers in 42 states.

The legislation, which the senate tacked onto a District of Columbia tax bill, would relax federal anti-trust law restrictions on price agreements in states authorizing such practice.

The senate voted for it yesterday, several months after President Roosevelt objected to Vice-President Garner that the measure would tend to raise prices at a time when living costs were advancing too rapidly.

BRUSH YOUR HAIR.

FASHION AND HAIR BRUSHING

At last fashion has changed so we can brush our hair into the current hair dressing vogue, without spoiling the way the hair dresser has set it. See the Chats.

Once we used to say, brush your hair for its health. Now we can say, please brush your hair for the sake of fashion. For the newest and the most becoming of the recent fashions is hair brushed right up off the face. You can brush it wide above the ears to widen a hollow face, you can brush it off the top of the head to lengthen a short face, you can combine both and look superlatively smart if your face is normal and attractive.

E. K. Forbes

It can be combed to the fashionable off the face lines, of course, but you really get a better effect if you use a brush. Also, as the hair must look and must not lie packed against the scalp, as in former years, you brush it to make it stand away from the head. All of which is very good for scalp and hair too, which helps cure dandruff or minor scalp troubles, and which induces a good crop of new hair. It also makes the hair glossy, by stimulating the oil glands.

First of all, give your scalp a good brushing, every direction, to loose the hair, air it, stimulate it. Then part it as you like with the comb, and make a second parting across the hair from ear to ear. Brush this part of the hair forward, the rest of it you brush neatly down against the head. If cropped short, give it a slanting effect in back by bringing it all behind one ear. If long, brush up the ends into curls over your finger.

Brush the forward part out away from the head. Then, dividing it into three or four sections, brush each section up from the face and back, by placing a finger behind the hair and brushing it back over this. Twist the ends under with your fingers, and behold, you have a series of soft curls right round your forehead. A halo, in fact. And for a thin face, widen the halo above the ears. For a fat face, or a short one, make one, two or even three separate curls right on the top of your forehead. Pile them as high as you can.

Mrs. B. J.—It is reasonable to believe that if we exercised our facial and throat muscles as we do all the other muscles of our bodies, we should have as much firmness in them and as fine a skin over the face and neck as we have on our bodies.

KING OF BELGIANS WOULD ORGANIZE TO PROTECT HUMANITY

BRUSSELS, Belgium, July 24.—(AP)—Establishment of an international organization to attempt solving the problems "which menacingly confront humanity," was urged today by King Leopold III.

A letter to Premier Paul Van Zeeland, who recently returned from economic conferences with President Roosevelt in Washington, set forth the monarch's recommendation for a world economics institute "relying on the co-operation of experts in industry, trade, agriculture, finance and labor from all nations."

"If we wish to avert war and bring the nations back to a more peaceful frame of mind, we must have the courage to tackle the economic question in its entirety; distribution of raw material—the distributon of means of exchange—international distribution of labor—equilibrium between the agricultural and industrial nations," the king wrote.

British Press Interested.

LONDON, July 24.—(AP)—The plea of King Leopold of Belgium for a world institution of economics to study the "menacing" problems of the world received wide attention today in the British press.

The Laborite Daily Herald called it "a letter which may alter world history."

Futures closed steady. Oct. 6-17; Dec. 616; Jan. 6.19; March 6.21; May 6.23.

New York Cotton Steady.

NEW YORK, July 26.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, down 4 to 10 points under foreign and hedge selling. There was an absence of new constructive developments over the week-end. Oct. 11.14; Dec. 11.03; Jan. 11.06; March 11.14; May 11.18; July 11.19.

Initial declines were extended to net losses of 13 to 20 points during the first half hour on indifferent demand.

Liverpool and Bombay were active sellers here in addition to which light but rather general liquidation was in evidence. While the trade was the best buyer, this support was small. The pressure later let up.

December eased from 11.07 to 10.95 and was taken at 10.98 with prices generally 13 to 18 points net lower.

Weather over the week-end was regarded as being generally favorable with only scattered showers over the belt.

Liverpool was steady.

The New York cotton exchange service made its preliminary estimate of world consumption of all cottons this season at 30,000,000 bales, including 13,100,000 American, leaving a carryover of 12,830,000 bales all kinds and 6,721,000 American.

Further new lows were registered late in the morning under a continuation of liquidation and the losses of about $1.50 a bale. There was still very little support in evidence and the market gave way under moderate offerings credited to commission houses, mills and New Orleans.

September eased to 10.83 and was at the low at midday when prices generally were 26 to 31 points net lower.

New Orleans Cotton Opens Lower

NEW ORLEANS, July 26.—(AP)—A little hedge selling and liquidation caused a barely steady opening in cotton here today and first transactions showed losses of 4 to 5 points.

The selling was not aggressive but sustaining support was lacking and in the absence of any pertinent new developments affecting the buying side only a small amount of selling orders were sufficient to depress prices.

October opened at 11.13, December at 11.15, Jan at 11.16, March at 11.25, and May at 11.29.

Prices continued to recede in early trading and towards the end of the first half hour active positions were 9 to 15 points under the previous close.

Selling became more general during the morning and before enough demand developed active positions declined 30 to 33 points below the previous close to new lows for the season.

There was some profit taking and a little buying on the theory that the recent heavy selling left the market in a stronger technical position. As a result, prices rallied, and at mid-session the market was 16 to 27 points under the previous close.

October rallied from 10.85 to 11.00, Dec. from 10.88 to 11.03, Jan. from 10.91 to 10.94 and March from 10.99 to 11.02.

MALODORANT BEING INJECTED INTO GAS MAINS IN TEXAS

DALLAS, July 26.—(AP)—The first major step in placing a malodorant in gas mains as a safety measure was started in Texas today.

The Lone Star Gas company announced it would start injecting fumes from Amyl mercaptan—akin of an odor usually prevalent around oil refineries or that of burning rubber—into its main lines at Gordon, Palo Pinto county. By the end of the week the fumes were expected to permeate the system as far as Dallas.

Thomas Bacon, research engineer for the company, explained that the chemical, potent enough to give off a warning odor by the mixing of only one pound with a million cubic feet of gas, is obtained by putting natural gas gasoline through two processes.

Highly inflammable, the fumes will not detract from the 1,050 British thermal units now contained in each cubic foot of gas, he said. Burning them, he added, leaves neither fumes nor residue.

The engineer said this would be the first time that odorization had been attempted through a long, high-pressure transmission line.

He said the malodorant also would be placed in the Galveston mains in the near future.

LEADING STOCKS MET DIFFICULTY MONDAY IN EXTENDING GAIN

WHILE SOME SPECIALTIES PUSHED AHEAD OTHERS SOLD AT LOSSES

By VICTOR EUBANK

NEW YORK, July 26.—(AP)—Backwardness of steels and motors clouded the silver lining of today's stock market and many recent leaders retreated behind minus signs.

At the same time a number of specialties displayed a disposition to tilt forward and numerous issues held the ground they won last week.

The stimulation of good earnings statements and the possibility congress will adjourn shortly, brokers thought, appeared to have faded somewhat. Many traders forsook the heated boardrooms for cooler environs and dealings were comparatively slow.

Utilities lost their buoyancy and the majority of the rails were unable to get up steam. A few coppers revived.

Transfers were around 900,000 shares.

NEW YORK, July 26.—(AP)—Leading stocks found difficulty in extending their advance in today's market.

While a number of specialties pushed ahead, the principal steels, utilities, motors and rails inclined to back away under profit selling.

Early losses of fractions to a point or more were cut down moderately near the fourth hour, but volume was small.

Grain and cotton futures were again on the retreat. Bonds did better.

Possibility of an early adjournment of congress and continuance of generally good earnings statements helped to bolster sentiment, but share buyers showed no disposition to reach for their favorites.

Gains up to a point or more were registered for U. S. Industrial Alcohol, American Commercial Alcohol, National Distillers, Simmons Co., U. S. Realty, Flintkote, Crecapeake and Ohio, Kennecott, Cerro De Pasco, Western Union, Tidewater Oil, Texas Corp., Auburn, U. S. Rubber, American Radiator and Armstrong Cork.

Narrow to down a point were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, American Steel Founders, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, Republic, General Motors, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, N. Y. Central, Southern Railway, Southern Pacific, Consolidated Edison, North American, Electric Power and Light, Canada Dry, American Locomotive, Du Pont, General Electric and Westinghouse.

Some statistical services forecast that, barring imporant labor interruptions, corporations can look forward to a satisfactory further increase in earnings for the current half year although it was pointed out comparisons with last year may not be so bright in many instances.

Curb Stronger

NEW YORK, July 26.—(AP)—The curb market moved forward today under the lead of utilities.

Northern States Power "A" rose 2 points on fair volume. Fractionally higher were Niagara Hudson Power, Standard Power and Light, American Gas and Electric and Arkansas Natural Gas "A."

Some inactive power issues also scored good gains, particularly American Cities Power Light "A" and Commonwealth Edison.

Aluminum Co. of America, and American Laundry Machinery were the most buoyant of the industrials, each rising a point or better. Gulf Oil and Pittsburgh Plate Glass were fractionally lower.

SACRIFICIAL SCENE IN CAVALCADE DREW MEXICAN PROTESTS

DALLAS, July 26.—(AP)—A virgin on the sacrificial altar in the "Cavalcade of the Americas" at the Greater Texas and Pan American Exposition drew a protest today from Adolfo Dominguez, Mexican consul.

The scene, as presented last night was one where an Aztec priest sacrifices a virgin.

"Aztecs never sacrificed women, only men—warriors" asserted Dominguez.

"The cavalcade is sacrificing historical authenticity for showmanship" said Ernesto J. Canales, director of Latin American participation in the exposition. "I believe, however, that the exposition will not wish to hurt the feelings of its neighbor country, and will make the change."

Hope to Return Two Charged With Robbery of Texan

PURCELL, Okla., July 26.—(AP)—Two transients sought for the robbery of D. F. Hornsby, Fort Worth, near here last week will be returned to Oklahoma if the New Orleans district attorney will release them, A. H. Edgemon, McClain county attorney said today.

Edgemon said the men, booked as Kurt Kisterer, 23, and Paul Jones, 27, were driving Hornsby's automobile when arrested at New Orleans.

Hornsby was robbed of his car, a wrist watch and $4 by two hitch-hikers who bound him and left him in a field east of Wayne, Okla.

AGED COTTON MILL WORKER DIES; FOUND BEEN ONCE FAMOUS

BLYTHE, Calif., July 26.—(AP)—Death of an 87-year-old cotton mill hand here has disclosed, Coroner Ben White said today, that he was once a prominent Southern architect and a descendant of British nobility.

Known here for years as "Samuel Adams," the man left among his meager effects a heavy gold watch engraved with an English coat or arms, an unfinished will drawn in favor of Mary Odom of Durant, Miss., and blueprints of several patented inventions.

Notified by the coroner, E. G. Odom, son of Mrs. Mary Odom, and a Southern railroad official, came to Blythe immediately.

Odom identified the deceased as Neal Austin, his uncle, who had vanished at the height of his career 32 years ago for an unknown reason, White said. Austin was credited with designing some of the most imposing buildings in the South.

FORD FOREMAN AND NLRB ATTORNEY IN CLASH ON MONDAY

DETROIT, July 26.—(AP)—Richard Elberth, a Ford Motor company foreman, under questioning by John T. McTernan, national labor relations board attorney, charged today that McTernan had threatened to "make a jackass" out of an assistant Ford foreman unless he gave a statement in support of NLBR charges.

The development came as the NLRB entered the fourth week of hearings into its charges of unfair labor practices against the Ford Motor Co.

The clash between the witness and McTernan ended when Louis J. Colombo, Ford counsel at the hearing asserted he had made no charge of intimidation against NLRB attorneys.

Elberth was earlier questioned about the discharge of seven workers in his department. The NLRB ha alleged they were dismissed for union activity.

Elberth asserted on the witness stand today that he discharged the men because they destroyed property, not because they belonged to a union. He said union membership was not incompatible with being a loyal Ford worker.

EMBARGO ON SCRAP IRON AND STEEL FOR EXPORT IS RAISED

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(AP)—The Association of American Railroads announced today cancellation of an embargo on scrap iron and steel shipped to Houston and Texas City, Texas, for export.

The cancellation was effective July 23.

W. C. Kendall, chairman of the associations' car service division, said the order was issued after a conference of officials of the association and the Scrap Iron and Steel Institute.

The division chairman predicted that individual railroads which also had placed embargoes on scrap iron and steel destined for Atlantic and Gulf ports for export, "undoubtedly" would follow the association's lead in cancelling their bans.

The embargoes, prohibiting the use of freight cars for hauling export scrap to the coast, were issued because of a congestion of cars at several ports. Vessels were not available during the late winter and early spring to make possible the transfer of the metal, consigned chiefly to Europe, from car to ship hold. Some of the bans had been in effect since February.

Proposals have been made in congress to prohibit the shipment abroad of scrap iron and steel. The scrap iron and steel is used for making war materials.

COTTON MILLERS BLANKED RICE IN GAME SUNDAY 4-0

PITCHING OF DOSSER AND HITTING OF BONDURANT FEATURES OF GAME

Dosser, pitcher for the Corsicana Cotton Millers, blanked the Rice club in their Navarro county baseball league tilt Sunday afternoon when he allowed only six hits. The Millers garnered 11 base blows for four runs during the afternoon off L. Ellis and McDonald.

The Mill clan put over three of their runs in the first inning and behind this margin Dosser kept the North Navarro countians at bay.

Bondurant, shortstop for the winners, led the attack with four hits, including a two-bagger, for a perfect day at bat and scored two of his team's runs.

TRENCH SILOS IS ATTRACTING MUCH COUNTY INTEREST

Navarro county farm leaders are taking considerable interest in the construction and use of trench silos. H. C. Robinson, county agent, pointed out Monday after ten silos were completed last week and several others are reported to be built this week.

Trench silos finished last week included four at the C. J. Davis farm at Pickett, two at the John Watson farm in Barry; two for L. F. Hall, Rice; one at the Finch Dairy, Corsicana, and one for Mrs. M. B. Brown, Powell.

Silos to be constructed this week include W. A. Price, J. C. Walker and Mike Kamen, all in the Kerens community; Hugh Parrish, Emhouse; J. E. Blackwell, Tupelo; H. A. Scott, Barry, and Willman's Dairy, Corsicana.

Anyone interested in seeing the trench silos filled are invited to be at the John Watson farm at Barry or the L. F. Hall farm at Rice Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Most of the silos are being filled with Hegari, County Agent Robinson pointed out, but some red top cane and milo maize are being utilized.

WOODS

based, and the government will be hindered if the schools do not live up to their two-fold objectives, teaching children how to live and how to make a living.

Budget Discussed.

He explained the only way to reduce a budget is to reduce the wants, and added that if the state wants to reduce its budget it should go back to the J. S. Hogg era, and lop off millions of dollars spent for educational and other purposes.

Taking up the state available school fund controversy, Mr. Woods showed that the money comes from two sources, state taxes and local taxes. He said, parenthetically, here that the homestead exemption law on homes valued up to $3,000 saved taxes for what he estimated at 75 per cent of the tax payers and added that he estimated only 25 per cent of the taxpayers owned property valued higher than $3,000.

The state superintendent explained the sources of state taxes for educational purposes (1-4 of the occupation taxes, such as gasoline and oil and tobacco, one dollar poll tax plus not more than 35 cents per one dollar of the advalorem taxes.)

State Apportionment.

He further explained the present controversy between the state board of education and the state automatic tax board. He said the board of education is authorized to set the state apportionment after considering the state's income from a budget given it by the comptroller's department. The board, he said, raised the proposed apportionment, and the automatic tax board cut the ad valorem tax rate, which would not meet the proposed raise.

At this point, Mr. Woods said the special interests fought the homestead exemption law, and as the law passed, "the automatic tax board has neutralized its effects by reducing the ad valorem taxes."

The speaker said if the proposed apportionment is continued the money must be raised, and since the state will not pay the difference, it must be paid by local taxes.

Discussing at length the equalization system, Mr. Woods concluded that the trouble with the present set-up is that the legislature sets up a program and furnishes the money for the program, but does not furnish enough money to put its proposed program into operation. In this connection he said the equalization fund's monies now are earmarked, and that the money set aside for transportation is enough to pay for transportation only until Christmas, and after that the more than 4,000 buses in the state will have to stop running.

Summing up his arguments, Mr. Woods said, "You are the dictators of Texas and you can get anything you want, within the bounds of reason if you will ask your legislators for it."

He discussed numerous other school laws, and explained what they propose to do, and how they will affect the system.

SOME INTERESTING STATISTICS ABOUT LIGHTNING AND NUMBER OF PEOPLE WHO ARE STRUCK

ATLANTA, July 26.—(AP)—Does lightning give you the heebiejeebies?

Then take a tip from Georgia, which has the nation's strikingest average, your jitters are not based on the law of averages.

It's a one hundred thousand to one shot the lightning won't get you this summer—even here.

Vital statistics show 30 of Georgia's 3,000,000 people are killed annually by lightning, but up in Delaware only one was killed over a ten-year stretch ending in 1933.

Leonard V. Phelps, director of Alabama's bureau of vital statistics, says:

"There is no correlation between density of population and morality from lighting. Undoubtedly the two factors are climate and habits of people."

His study shows that there are two sections of the nation where mortality runs abnormally high—the southeast, and a group of states from the Canadian border southward through Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona. Seven were killed in the southeast in a single day this month.

City dwellers who envy their rural brothers during these sweltering days may find some solace in the fact few are killed by lightning in urban centers. Buildings serve to discharge accumulating electricity.

George W. Mindling, U. S. Weatherman here, urges those caught in thundershowers in the open to seek a forest but not a single tree—the odds are against that lonesome pine.

He's a firm believer in the value of lightning rods on homes in isolated spots.

Florida papers won't copy but the sunshine state has an average of 13 against 0.42 for California.

The Indians had a saying, translated into modern lingo—"Don't worry about the lightning you see; you'll never see the bolt that hits you."

Safety Campaign Being Fostered By Typographical Union

A safety campaign is being fostered in Corsicana by the local Typhographical Union, along the general lines of efforts all over Texas and, in fact, throughout the nation, to curtail the number of accidents that are taking so many lives and injuring many others.

Messrs. Claypool and Patterson are conducting the campaign through the sale of stamps and booklets of stickers, and the campaign has the endorsement, it is stated, of many mayors and leading citizens and officials of Texas.

DOOLING

death would have on the approaching mayoralty campaign.

Dooling came into his leadership several years ago as victor in an internal fight at one of Tammany's lowest periods as far as political prestige goes. Tammany had been ripped apart by the sensational disclosures of the Seabury investigation, followed by its political defeat by Mayor LaGuardia.

Dooling is survived by three sisters, Misses Florence and Ethel Dooling, and Mrs. Thomas Howley.

Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at Holy Cross church in Manhattan with interment at Calvary cemetery. Dooling's family asked that no flowers be sent to the house.

The youngest man to rise to the leadership of Tammany hall in its 151 years of activity, Dolling won the job by leading the fight to oust the man his father helped to put in office.

Former Football-Baseball Player.

Dooling, lawyer, war veteran and former football and baseball player at Fordham University, arose from comparative obscurity to capture the highest honor that Tammany Tiger can give.

His father, Peter J. Dooling, ex-congressman and purchase commissioner of New York, died in 1931 and the son became leader in the southern part of the fifth assembly district in New York, a section his father had ruled for 31 years.

Dooling's bitter opposition to John F. Curry, Tammany leader, and opponent of Franklin D. Roosevelt's bid for the presidency, threw him into the political limelight in 1933.

He joined Michael J. Kenedy and with him soon controlled the fifth district. Appointed head of a committee of six, Dooling succeeded in ousting Curry and at 41 was elected to take his place.

It was the first time in Tammany history a leader had been ousted.

lic safety department. The factory operators then had the remaining 175 acres of the plant destroyed. The other 400 acres had been destroyed previously because a drought kept the plant from growing large enough for fiber purposes.

The governor said any of the plant sold for marihuana purposes doubtless was stolen from the fields.

Hemp is grown in this country principally in Illinois, Kentucky and Wisconsin, the Governor said. It is used, he explained, in the making of twine, light cordage and hat brims. Leaves of the plant, however, provide "marihuana smokes."

Allred said Texas now had a strong anti-narcotics statute and urged local officers to enforce it. Dealers can be imprisoned up to ten years.

"The Public Safety Department will cooperate," he said, "in every way."

forces south of Peiping, indicating there was no intention to bow to the Japanese ultimatum.

(The Japanese embassy concurred with Chinese officials in viewing the situation as "most grave," both factons professing to believe that "was is inevitable."

Early this morning, after a battle had raged for several hours, Japanese reinforcements of men and planes arrived.

Casualties Believed Heavy.

Chinese casualties were believed several hundred. Japanese officially listed fewer than 10 dead.

Lieut. Gen. Kiyoshi Katsuki, commander-in-chief of the Japanese North China army, demanded of General Sung Cheh-Yuang, Chinese warlord in the Hopeh-Chahar district:

1. That all units of the 37th division of he 29th Chinese army withdraw southward to Changsingtien from the Lukouchiao-Wanpinkhsien area southwest of Peiping before noon Tuesday.

2. That all other units now in Peiping or in the west barracks garrison withdraw west of the Yungting river by noon Wednesday.

Otherwise, said the Japanese general there will be drastic punitive action byg the Japanese army. Already, General Katsuki let it be known, all available Japanese strength was drawn up for such a punitive campaign.

General Sung, the Chinese warlord who commands both the 29th army and the Hopeh-Chahar political council, was reported without confirmation to have refused the Japanese ultimatum and to have ordered his men: "Resist!"

Japanese Attack.

Chinese said the Langfang battle started when Japanese attacked troops of the 38th division en route to Peiping to take over the Chinese garrison from the 38th in accordance with Japanese demands.

Japanese, however, declared the attack was in reprisal for a Chinese assault against a Japanese signal corps detachment which was attempting to restore military telephone service.

Chinese positions at Langfang were reported blown to bits. Hundreds of Chinese soldiers and civilians were reported killed.

The Japanese ultimatum followed efforts of the Hopeh-Chahar political council to reopen truce negotiations with Japanese after the Langfang clash.

Major Conflict Is Feared Unavoidable

TOKYO, July 26.—(AP)—The Japanese government expressed fear today that a major armed conflict between Japanese and Chinese in North China is now unavoidable.

Emperor Hirohito called Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye, Foreign Minister Koki Hiroto, Finance Minister Okinobu Kaya and Field Marshall Prince Kotohito Kanin, chief of the army general staff, to an emergency conference on the situation.

Tokyo took on a warlike atmosphere.

Developments which followed the new outbreak of histlilities in the North China area were:

1. Konoye called the cabinet into emergency session.

2. War Minister Gen Gen Sugiyama told the cabinet it was his intention to deal "most firmly" with the Chinese.

3. The navy department ordered Vice Admiral Kiyoshi Hasegawa, commander in chief of the third fleet in Chinese waters, to carry out "emergency measures." in the crisis.

4. The Japanese air corps started five-day war games designed to test Tokyo's defenses against air attacks.

5. Hurried preparations were made to pass an emergency budget measure in the lower house of parliament.

Premier Konoye will outline the government's stand in the crisis at a joint sesson of both houses Tuesday.

Government sources said a clash at Langfang had desaroyed all progress toward peaceful settlement of the hostilities which started July 7.

welfare bonds, boosting its current total outstanding to $193,000,000 as against $121,000,000 in 1929. The state's general fund deficit dropped, however, from 43,000,000 to $26,000,000.

Louisiana's $150,000,000 debt was up approximately $35,000,000, and Mississippi's stood at roughly $48,000,000, up five millions in the face of a $42,000,000 highway issue.

Missouri issued 74,500,000 in bonds for roads and buildings, raised its bond obligations from the 1929 figure of $70,000,000 to $115,000,000.

Among the states making the largest bonded debt reductions from peak marks were:

Colorado—$12,700,000 to $4, 039,000.

Kansas—$29,500,000 to $17,250,000.

Oklahoma—$19,500,000 to $10,504,000.

Texas—$24,102,000 to $17,650,000.

Oregon—$63,170,000 to $47,170,000.

Idaho—$4,850,000 to $1,637,000.

PROBE OF FOOD POISONING CASES DETROIT SUNDAY

DETROIT, July 26.—(AP)—Prosecutor Vincent Fitzgerald of Macomb county opened an investigation today of the poisoning of approximately 50 persons who ate food Sunday in a concession tent at the International Trapshooting tournament.

At least 11 victims required hospital treatment and several others attended privately by physicians were described as temporarily very ill.

Prosecutor Fitzgerald said he had summoned Walter Marony, Detroit caterer, and five of his employes and associates today and would endeavor to learn first whether Marony "has any enemies."

The caterer operated a tented lunch concession at the Blue Rock Gun Club grounds. Fitzgerald ordered food samples taken for analysis by the county chemest.

Detroit police detectives and health authorities co-operated with Macomb county officials in the investigation, having worked two months ago on a similar caes involving the same caterer. One person died and 71 were made ill in the earlier case.

CONGRESS

the Wagner low-cost housing measure.

The senate judiciary subcommittee drafting the substitute court bill said they expected to report it to the senate by the last of the week.

The proposed bill to plug tax loopholes has not been finished.

The wage and hour bill would give to a national board power to fix a minimum wage of not more than 40 cents an hour and a maximum work week of not less than 40 hours for each industry in interstate commerce.

Goods produced in violation of these standards or manufactured by child labor would be barred from interstate commerce.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(AP)—Farm administration officials said today they hope to have the tenancy aid program under way early next month.

The name "farm security administration" has been selected tentatively for the organization in charge.

President Roosevelt signed last week the bill authorizing the agriculture department to embark on a long-time program to turn nearly 3,000,000 tenant farmers into land owners.

The bill allows $10,000,000 this year for loans to tenants to purchase $25,000,000 in the 1939 fiscal year and $50,000,000 annually thereafter. It also authorizes $10,000,000 this year and $20,000,000 each in 1939 and 1940 with which the department may purchase and retire from cultivation land unsuited for crops.

Tenants in southern and midwestern states will be the first to receive assistance, officials said.

Selection of the individuals to be helped and the land to be purchased will be left largely in the hands of county committee of farmers familiar with local conditions.

WASHINGAON, July 26.—(AP)—Chairman McCarran (D-Nev.) forecast today a senate judiciary subcommittee drafting a bill to alter lower court procedure would complete its work by nightfall.

He said the subcommittee had agreed to leave out of the bill, which replaces the shelved administration court bill, any effort to regulate receiverships. This, he added, would be handled in a separate measure.

Democratic Leader Barkley (D-Ky.) told newspapermen, however, he had made no change in the senate's program for the week and planned to continue with the wage and hour bill.

Meanwhile expectation that President Roosevelt would fill the vacancy on the supreme court before adjournment of congress renewed speculation over his choice. The latest name mentioned was that of Senator Robert La Follette (Prog.-Wis.)

Senator Borah (R-Ind.) chief backer of the proposal to regulate receivership procedure, indicated he was satisfied to handle it as a separate bill.

"There is an impression there is an element of breach of faith to include the receivership proposition in the court bill," Borah said. "But everyone favors the receivership plan and I will offer it as a separate bill."

No Dirigibles Recommended

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(AP)—A high navy officer told the house naval committee today his department could not recommend, at this time, further expenditures for building and operation of dirigibles for military purposes.

Citing the navy's "disastrous experiences" with dirigibles, Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of operations, said the department had found lighter-than-aircraft "wanting." Charles Edison, assistant navy secretary testified that Secretary Swanson was endeavoring to formulate a policy in regard to such aircraft.

The committee had under consideration of a bill to authorize a $3,000,000 airship to replace the Los Angeles, which was retired as obsolete.

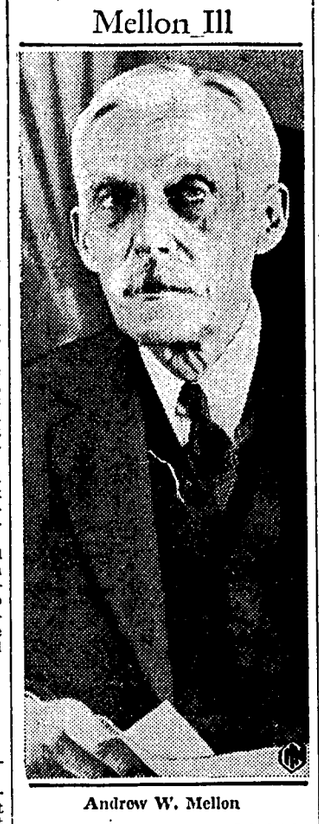

Three navy airships—the Shenandoah, the Akron and the Macon—were destroyed in flight, with heavy loss of life in the case of the first two.

and furnishings of the office scattered about the floor by burglars who broke into the union headquarters, Miss Rebecca Taylor and Miss Joanne Ramsey, educational directors of the union, said today after they went to open the office.

First reports were that records of the union, scheduled to be used in a hearing before the National Labor Relations Board on charges filed by the union against Fire and Police Commissioner Phil Wright and the Shirlee Frocks, Inc., dress manufacturing concern had been stolen. This was proved incorrect by a later check of the office and its filing cases, union officials said.

Seeks Meat Embargo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 26.—(AP)—C. I. O. regional organizer Hugh Thompson today asked union butchers throughout the midwest to help clamp a meat embargo on Buffalo to help 2,000 striking food handlers in their fight for closed shop contracts.

Thompson asked regional union executives in other cities to order their men not to handle food shipments destined for Buffalo.

Striking food handlers returned to their picket lines and resumed efforts to stop grocery deliveries after a 24-hour truce expired without an agreement being reached.

As Buffalo housewives sought to replenish larders depleted by week-end meals, state labor mediators sought again a permanent settlement between employers and the 2,000 striking employes, who have kept grocery deliveries tied up for six days.

Railways Moving Produce Twice As Fast as Formerly

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(AP)—American Railways are speeding butter, breakfast and building materials from producer to consumer today at nearly twice the speed of 10 years ago.

A survey by the Association of American Railroads showed all major lines have stepped up the handling of freight until overnight service to points 500 miles away is common. The time of longer hauls also has been reduced.

Association figures show it cost an average of $10.78 for railroads to move 1,000 tons a mile in 1920 and only $6.63 in 1935.

Albuquerque Girl Wins Lubbock Meet

LUBBOCK, July 26.—(AP)—Miss Elinor Jones of Albuquerque, N. M., today packed off the Lubbock Country Club's Invitation tournament trophy.

FIRST MASS ATTACK ON SYPHILIS TO BE OPENED IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, July 26. —(AP)— The nation's first mass attack on the syphilis plague was launched today when a quarter of a million persons were polled on the question of submitting to free secret blood tests.

At the same time 5,500 physicians were invited by Dr. Louis Schmidt of Mayor Edward J. Kelly's committee for control of veneral disease, to enlist in the campaign sponsored by the United States Public Health Service.

Health authorities will poll approximately 1,000,000 Chicagoans on the question of submitting to free secret tests.

"If we find a large number of citizens favor the confidential blood tests the city and state will be asked to furnish funds to carry out the program," Dr. Schmidt said.

Out of Town Friends And Relatives Attend Funeral Mrs. Molloy

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Hallie Molloy were held Sunday afternoon at the Sutherland-McCammon funeral chapel.

The large number of sorrowing friends in attendance and the mound of beautiful flowers attested to her popularity. Friends of the family deeply sympathize with them in the loss of their loved one.

Out-of-town friends and relatives in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Bates and daughter, Clara Molloy, and Martha Ann Lewis of Wichita Falls; Mrs. T. H. Ralph, Groesbeck; Mrs. George Stamps and son, Billie; Mesdames J. E. Barnes, Elizabeth Hamilton, and Ernestine Allen, and Mr. and Mrs. Miller Walton of Dallas, and Mrs. Ada Kelley of Lufkin.
